In the Interests of Justice—This scene came about as a result of a disturbing-the-peace complaint filed by the next-door neighbor of Mrs. Emilia I. Giardini of Park dr., Back Bay, a voice teacher. Patrolman John J. Davey, called to sing a few notes while Judge Samuel Eisenstadt listened in the next-door apartment, is joined in song here by a pupil, Mrs. Florence Weintraub, as Mrs. Giardini accompanies them on the piano. Judge Eisenstadt, after listening, found Mrs. Giardini not guilty, but ruled that she would have to stop giving lessons there.

Burke, of Columbus, O., on the infant's arrival in that city after being flown in an Army hospital plane from Frankfurt, Germany. The baby's mother died two days after his birth. ## All Idle Tankers To Rush Fuel Oil

All idle tankers which are commercially usable will be put into service in an effort to break the critical fuel position, the Maritime Commission announced in Washington today.

American buyers have received approval to purchase 324 tankers. It was stated, but these do not include the 50 military type tankers which are being reconditioned to serve the needs of the Navy.

Officials said employment of the idle tankers should help in meeting the oil shortage.

Meanwhile, in Boston the fuel position revolved round the mixup in price boosts which followed Price advances by some companies.

Petroleum dealers said today that a leveling off was imminent and the confusion had resulted from a temporary situation brought about by "across the board" advances in wholesale prices.

Buyers of gasoline and fuel oil for homes were surprised to find variations in prices. Household fuel oil varied between 11.6 and 11.9 cents a gallon.

Motorists found prices ranging from the old figure of 21.2 cents a gallon to 22.6. Some stations continued to sell premium gasoline at 23.2 cents while others boosted the price to 24.6.

Putting the price boost into immediate effect were, according to petroleum circles, Socony-Vacuum, Shell, Jenney, Richfield, Calso, Cities Service and American Oil Co. (Amoco).

The same spokesmen stated that the Sun Oil Co. (Sunoco), Esso, Gulf, Texas (Texaco) and Tydol had not announced new prices to the dealers at the end of the business day.

All U. S. Armed Forces Out of Hungary

BUDAPEST, Dec. 16 (AP)—The United States has formally notified Hungary of its compliance with the Hungarian peace treaty by the withdrawal of all American military forces from the country, it was learned today.

U.S. Turns to West To Unify Germany

LONDON, Dec. 16 (AP)—High diplomatic informants said Secretary Marshall will begin with French Foreign Minister Bidault tonight the first of a series of western power talks on the unification of western Germany. The informants said Marshall set his staff of German advisers to work early today drafting proposals he might tentatively advance to Bidault for merger of the French, British and American zones, now that the four-power organization of all Germany has been ruled out, for the immediate future at least, by the breakdown of the Big Four talks here.

Bidault has said there "will be conversations to see where we stand" on western Germany in the near future.

"We (the three western powers) must find some way of getting along."

MOLOTOV LEAVES

The U. S. delegation held a special meeting to discuss problems arising from the collapse of the Big Four conference. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and his aides departed for home.

Deputies of the four foreign ministers scheduled a meeting for tomorrow to begin what may be their last joint effort to write a treaty for Austrian peace and independence.

Meanwhile, Bidault and Marshall will meet at dinner tonight at the French Embassy. Bidault also said he expected to see British Foreign Sec. Bevin before leaving for Paris Wednesday night. Talks between Bevin and Marshall also are due.

SEE 3-POWER MEETING

Some American diplomats said they thought it possible that Marshall, Bevin, and Bidault may plan a three-power meeting here.

Marshall will fly to Washington Thursday afternoon. He probably will follow the usual pattern of making a radio address soon after arrival.

Bevin is expected to report to Parliament at the earliest opportunity. Britons said he is expected to tell the British cabinet tomorrow of the factors leading to the conference breakdown.

Molotov was accompanied homeward by three plane loads of aides and advisers including Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinski and Marshal Sokolovsky, chief of the Russian occupation forces in Germany.

Takeoff of the planes was delayed for three-quarters of an hour awaiting Molotov's arrival.

Refugees in Rush From Soviet Zone

LONDON, Dec. 16 (INS)—The start of a virtual stampede of refugees from the Soviet occupation zone to western Germany as a result of the collapse of the Big Four conference was reported today.

The London Daily Graphic said in an undated dispatch that German trains traveling from the east to the west are crammed with passengers.

The dispatch said military staffs in the British occupation zone have begun to prepare plans to cope with hordes of refugees after receiving indications that great treks already are under way.

Drivers Drop Coins In Meters Not in Use

Waltham motorists who have been dropping coins in the newly-installed parking meters in Moody st., Waltham, learned today that the machines have not yet been placed in use.

City Clerk William J. Lanagan said the city council would take final action on the parking meter ordinance at its meeting Monday.

MOLOTOV'S JAB

LONDON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov's parting statement to the council was a jab at U. S. State Secretary Marshall, who had pointed out that the three western powers could agree, but that the Soviet Union would not.

"It should not be forgotten that it is impossible to talk to the Soviet government in the same manner as you talk to the present Greek government," Molotov said.

8 Die, 12 Missing In Tanker Crash

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The toll of dead in the collision of two tankers yesterday off Curaçao, Dutch West Indies, rose to eight today with 12 persons still reported missing.

A message from Puerto Rico Coast Guard headquarters said eight bodies had been brought ashore and 50 persons rescued. Eight of the rescued were described as seriously injured.

The message declared the Venezuelan tanker Tucupita, a converted LST, was a total loss. She carried a crew of 36, including two women.

UNUSUAL SURGERY—An operation, usually reserved for elderly patients, is credited with correcting a bladder ailment that had felled Harold Landers, 2 (above), of Hazardville, Ct. Surgeons at Springfield Hospital performed the delicate surgery. The lad will be home for Christmas.

Big 4 Breakdown Does Not Mean War Now, Says Shaw

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, HERTFORDSHIRE, Eng., Dec. 16 (INS)—George Bernard Shaw today summarized his personal reaction to the London Conference failure by saying:

"Collapse of the Council of Foreign Ministers won't mean war between East and West. Anyone who thinks differently just because four men sitting around a table agreed to disagree is a plain lunatic."

Shaw explained: "The more they talked the more they disagreed. That always happens when people fundamentally opposed to one another try to straighten things out in a so-called conference."

"What is a diplomatic conference? The last thing a diplomatic conference ever does is to confer."

"I suppose you want to know whether it means war?"

"Why on earth should it?"

"Simply because they have agreed to disagree over a given number of questions why should they start killing one another? Lunatics who think failure of the conference will be followed by war simply do not have the right perspective in these matters."

"Remember, the Russians are about to sign a trade agreement with Britain and they will sign other agreements in the future whenever they are beneficial to Russia."

"But to keep arguing and talking on matters of principle when both sides hold completely irreconcilable opinions doesn't mean they cannot get along together on solid commercial matters on which there is no fundamental difference.

"I am only talking about the immediate future. I am not going to be led into prophecies about the distant future."

"The only thing I will forecast is that one of these days Americans, British and Russians will decide to get together on matters in which there is some basis of agreements."

"It will happen, but don't ask me when."

SO LITTLE TIME TO LIVE—It was only seven months ago when Johnny Rensberger, of Chicago, came into the world. Now doctors at Children's Memorial Hospital tell his mother that Johnny must die. She weeps over the tragic child, who suffers from leukemia, as she prays that his father, Anthony Rensberger, can arrive in time from Lancaster, Pa., to see the boy before his predicted death.

Panic Grips NH Jail As Poison Fells 3d

CLAREMONT, N. H., Dec. 16—Terror gripped 130 inmates and workers at the Sullivan County jail today as a third employee, apparently poisoned, collapsed at breakfast while authorities sought vainly to weed out the would-be killer whose strychnine felled the jailer and jail matron last night. The latest victim was William McGowan, 59, a herdsman, who fell into convulsions while having breakfast. McGowan's wife, who sat next to him at the table, reported both ate the same food except that her husband added sugar to his coffee while she used none.

Sheriff James F. McCusker ordered the sugar bowl and the coffee cup used by McGowan sent to the state chemist at Concord for analysis.

Only a few hours before McGowan was stricken, the chemist, Gilman Crowell, reported that he had found evidence of pure strychnine in chocolate milk drinks which Jailer Thomas Brown, 78, and Mrs. Irene Hastings, 52, had sipped a few moments before they became violently ill.

Brown and the matron are in Claremont General Hospital where authorities said they were not in serious condition.

The chemist's report, coupled with the sudden attack suffered by McGowan at breakfast, threw the entire prison colony into a state bordering on panic. No one was above suspicion and the prospect of the next meal became an ordeal of fright as word spread throughout the institution that the poisonings appeared to be the work of a maniac.

SUGAR BOWLS LOCKED UP

All prisoners and employees and their quarters were ordered searched; all sugar bowls were placed under lock and key and all milk cans were collected for a chemical analysis.

The three persons stricken are among 22 who eat together in a dining hall separate from that used by the prisoners. Before McGowan became violently ill, Sheriff McCusker had limited the investigation to the 22 in that dining hall.

After breakfast today, the probe was widened to include the entire colony. Although the sheriff declared that strychnine was not used on the farm for rodent extermination or any other purpose, it was pointed out that it might have come from the farm hospital where all types of drugs are kept.

"So far as the jailer and matron are concerned, the poison undoubtedly was slipped into their drinks," McCusker

RECORD WARMTH PRETTY NICE, BUT--

The fall season, only a week from its official end, dug deep for a blaze of glory today and came up with an azure sky and golden sun after a night of rain, boosting the mercury to 60 this forenoon, a new record for the day.

The weatherman noted, in passing, that the previous record for this date was 56, established in 1928.

There was also a less pleasant note in his conversation. He warned it will be much colder tonight, a situation which will remain throughout tomorrow, abetted by strong westerly winds that might bring snow flurries to the northern sections of New England.

Vermont Jury Spurs Check on Jail Locks

RUTLAND, Vt., Dec. 16—Antiquated locks at the county jail were checked and rechecked today on recommendation of the Rutland grand jury—aftermath of a recent escape by two inmates. The grand jury, winding up a session in which two alleged wife-killers were indicted, made their recommendation after visiting the jail and testing the locks.

FALSE STORY

Brookshire said the boy first told Police Chief M. L. Cline that two masked men had entered the house and knocked him unconscious. He said that when he recovered his sister had gone and that he feared she had been kidnapped.

Officers doubted his story when he showed no evidence of having been struck, and when they found the .22 caliber rifle in a closet of the home.

Police found the body of the pretty, brown-haired girl on the floor of the cellar. In the front room, bullet holes were in the wall and blood was on the floor near the divan.

12-Year-Old Boy Confesses Slaying 'Nagging' Sister, 16

LAS ANIMAS, Col., Dec. 16 (AP)—Sheriff L. E. Brookshire said today a 12-year-old boy had confessed killing his 16-year-old sister with a .22 calibre rifle "because she was always nagging me about bringing in the fuel."

Brookshire said Jimmy Melton signed a confession that he had shot his sister, Phyllis Marie, as she sat on a divan in their home looking at snapshots.

"I never liked her, anyway," Brookshire quoted the boy as saying.

Brookshire and Dep. Dist. Atty. Fred Sisk said the thin, slight youth told them this story:

PLANNED KILLING

He stayed away from school all day, planning to kill his sister. After dinner, when his father, J. H. Melton, was still at the hardware store where he is employed, Jimmy went into another room and got a .22 caliber rifle.

Phyllis sat on a divan in the living room, looking at snapshots. He fired once from the doorway and the bullet struck her in the shoulder. Then he went around in front of her, fired a shot through her forehead, and pumped three more bullets into her head and body.

After she slumped over, he dragged her body to the basement, then ran from the house.

'THANK YOU' THIEVES LOOT QUINCY HOME

Thieves polite enough to leave a "thank you" note behind may have also left their fingerprints on a bottle of milk and glasses in the home of Donald Holton, Southern artery, Quincy, police said today.

Methodical as well as brazen, the thieves first went to Holton's garage, took a ladder, placed it against the house and mounted to a second floor open window through which they gained entrance. Inside, they thoroughly ransacked the rooms, taking with them three suits, a topcoat, a camera, two alarm clocks and $3.00 in pennies they found in the pantry.

Their business ended, they ate leisurely of a pudding found in the refrigerator and washed it down with milk. On a dresser they placed a printed note reading "thank you."

Story of Muriel's Hard Drinking Has Kick of Soda Pop

By CHARLES FINSTON
NEW YORK, Dec. 16—One of Fowler McCormick agents who "spied" on the industrialist's sister, Mrs. Muriel McCormick Hubbard when she was a WAC, gave a deposition about the heiress' alcoholic proclivities, but the evidence had as much kick in it as a bottle of pop.

SWEET SLUMP

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 16 (AP)—The sugar black market collapsed today as the first shipment of Cuban sugar for general rationing arrived from San Diego, Cal.
One kan (8 1/2 pounds) of sugar, selling at 3000 yen ($66) yesterday, could be bought today for 2500 yen.

The agent, George Stockner, one of seven private detectives hired at $25 a day by Fowler, chairman of the International Harvester Co. board, to snoop on Muriel, testified he saw her "walking with unsteady steps" three times in seven weeks in April and May of 1944.

Muriel at this time was on WAC recruiting duty in Manhattan, while Fowler and her aunt, Mrs. Anita McCormick Blain, 82, of Chicago, were engaged in harassing the 45-year-old heiress with legal actions designed to separate her from the two orphans she adopted in 1939, Edie, 14, and Deedie, 16, according to testimony in the case before Superior Judge Sbarbaro of Chicago.

TELLS OF DRINKING

Stockner stumbled through 40 pages of reports during five hours of testimony, disclosing that the most he saw Muriel imbibe at one sitting were two jiggers of whiskey, two bottles of ale and two highballs, plus a lot of food in between.

Another time, Stockner said, he saw the uniformed heiress take three drinks of Scotch or rye (he wasn't sure which) over a three-hour period while Muriel had dinner with friends.

The balance of Stockner's reports, which were in disarray chronologically and caused much loss of time as he thumbed through them to locate specific items, were a dull recitation of Muriel's tactless rides, visits to food shops, meetings with friends at "name" bars or hotel cafes, library visits, tobacco purchases, and so forth.

The other witnesses who gave depositions were James Devine, former chief house officer of the Savoy Plaza Hotel, and William H. Kelley, who was a house officer for the hotel but has since been demoted to timekeeper.

LOSS OF MEMORY

Devine suffered from loss of memory as he cited several instances of quarrels between Muriel and Mrs. Vera Parsons, former guardian of the two orphans for one year, while they were guests of the hotel.

Devine, however, was unable to recall whether the complaints were registered in 1940 or 1941.

Timekeeper Kelly suffered from the same loss of memory as his co-boss, Devine, but dropped a minor grenade into the proceedings when he told how Muriel asked him to get a hypodermic needle sterilized one night.

Kelly was asked by Muriel's lawyer, Leslie H. Vogel, and her ace investigator, W. C. Dannenberg whether his implication concerning the needle was that the heiress was using narcotics. Kelly replied:

"No, I don't think so. I saw no evidence of that. There was nothing attached to the needle."

He said he never saw Muriel under the influence of whisky, as charged by Fowler in the industrialist's move to divest his sister of any further jurisdiction over the two twins, now "farmed out" to an elderly Evanston, Ill., couple.

Grain Prober Threatens to Use Subpoena

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R.) of Michigan declared today that Administration refusal to make public the list of grain market speculators, which Harold E. Stassen claims includes the names of "government insiders," will be answered with subpoenas.

"If we can't get it the easy way from the government, we can take the long way and get it from the brokers," the Senator declared.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Sec. Anderson, who has the information the committee wants, is known to have conferred privately with Chairman Bridges (R.) New Hampshire.

Bridges declined to comment on the outcome, but there were strong indications that Anderson may refuse officially to make the names public. M. McHenry, administrator for the Commodities Exchange Authority of which Anderson is a member, already has told the committee he believes the law forbids his giving the names to Congress.

Bridges and Ferguson has disputed this, with indications that a formal demand will be made on Anderson.

Stassen told a news conference that he believes President Truman himself should make public the list of market operators.

Delaney Opens Dimes Campaign

Collector of Internal Revenue Denis W. Delaney was praised for his charitable work by members of the Suffolk County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis when, as chairman of that branch, he opened the 1948 March of Dimes campaign at an initial dinner in the Hotel Statler.

His supporters termed a smear the recent criticism by a congressional appropriations subcommittee report which claimed $1911 in March of Dimes collections had been found in a file drawer in the internal revenue offices.

Spring Fashions to Feature 'New Look' in Moderation

By RUTH MUGLEBEE
Boston Evening American Fashion Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 16—While men may think that the flapper of our era has got, if you'll please excuse the expression, the "New Look" when she wears a bushy dirndl skirt, a black sweat shirt, a chest full of pearls, and wo-footed shoes, they have it wrong and so has she.

Cape Socielite Woman Is Ruled Suicide

CHATHAM, Dec. 15—After a coroner's inquest held in the victim's home, Mrs. Ann Patterson Cathcart, 47, socially prominent on Cape Cod, in Washington and in New York, today was pronounced a suicide by Medical Examiner Dr. Carroll H. Keene.

Mrs. Cathcart, her wrists slashed and a bullet in her head, was found in the kitchen of her Bridge st. home by Benjamin Bassett, caretaker of the Cathcart estate.

At the inquest were Dr. Keene, Police Chief Everett R. Eldridge, Sgt. Benjamin Rollins and the victim's husband, Noble A. Cathcart, former FBI official and now publisher of a Cape Cod weekly newspaper.

A native of Minnesota, Mrs. Cathcart formerly was active socially in Washington and New York. She belonged to many Cape Cod organizations. Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Lucy Ann, 16, and Betty, 13.

HOLIDAY FETE FOR BLIND

Boston Aid to the Blind, Inc. will hold its annual holiday party Thursday afternoon in the vestry of Temple Mishkan Tefila on Seaver st., Roxbury.

Pretty starlet Madge Meredith, convicted last Thursday of kidnapping and assaulting her former manager, is booked as she entered a Los Angeles jail to await a hearing later this month for a new trial. The 24-year-old former Iowa Falls, Iowa, girl had been out on bond. With her is Deputy Sheriff Dorothea M. Wilson.

That fashion caricature is out, and with it all the trumped-up exaggerations usually attendant on a style upheaval, such as women have gone through the past six months. This is what will be new in the "New Look" for spring.

Modification will be the keynote theme for spring. Waistlines will be small but not squeezed in. Daytime skirts will be long but not dripping to the ankles. And not so full as to be floppy. Spring will mark the end of the "male-amazement-at-fashion" period and herald the beginning of a new period of woman's powers of discrimination.

WILL LEVEL OFF

"This leveling off of fashion for spring will not, actually, be in the design itself so much as it will stem from the woman who wears the clothes," Kay Sullivan, president of the New York fashion group, told fashion authorities and fashion information disseminators at the Hotel Biltmore.

After six months of the "New Look," woman's own good taste and sense of appropriateness will have developed to a point where she can intuitively censor the length of a hem, and the time of day for it, she said.

While spring ready-to-wear collections are a confirmation of the fall ones, they have been modified to an extent where finesse becomes part of the feminine fashion picture.

Miss Sullivan pointed out that the waistline will again be the pivot of spring clothes, hugged, cinched, moulded and defined "whether the cloth that covers it is chiffon or chinchilla."

The lean, stringent skirt will again be respected as a distinguished and very promising minority among skirts, she pointed out.

VANISHING ELBOW

"While six months ago, we knew that the knee would disappear completely, we have good reason to believe that another fascinating disappearing act is going on," Miss Sullivan continued. "It is the elbow which is very often covered in the spring collections either by sleeves or by a pair of gloves."

The shoulder pad is also sneaking back into modified power suits, at least, it was pointed out. For now, although the shoulder is still cut very short, and still deliberately rounded, it is receiving

Cop Sings and Judge Rules Music Can Be a Nuisance

Boston Port Buildup On

A large scale program to increase Boston's port facilities by 50 per cent and eventually provide the city with one of the finest and most modern terminals on the Atlantic Coast was announced today by Port Director J. A. Crothers. Details of the Port Authority's plan call for expenditures of $19,555,000 for vast waterfront reorganization, modernization and expansion.

Crothers stated that the project could be completed within three years.

Four moves are envisaged under the plan, construction of a three-berth finger type pier with cargo sheds and grain elevators at Charlestown's Hoosac Pier; construction of new pier facilities at Mystic Terminal, Charlestown, on the site of piers 46 and 47; reconstruction of East Boston Terminal with modernization of present grain facilities, and repair of wharf facilities at Castle Island Terminal.

Dredging and filling operations at the Hoosac Pier are already underway and the new pier will be approximately 515 feet wide, providing berths for three ships at one time. The large transit shed will cover an area of approximately 200,000 square feet.

UNWILLING GROOM

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Gerald F. Liebold contends he was shoved into marriage—and he wants out.

Liebold, a railroad employe, filed a divorce suit claiming he was railroaded into matrimony by his wife, Alice M., in Chicago Nov. 26, 1946.

The bride and her strapping brothers threatened him with violence and there was "no other reason" for the ceremony, his complaint asserted.

Moreover, he said they held him prisoner for two weeks before he escaped and came to California.

It wasn't Davey's apartment; he was told to go in there and sing while the judge tried to estimate the noise decibels next door.

However, on the basis of what he heard, the jurist ruled, after the cast had moved to the courtroom, that Mrs. Emilia Ippolito Giardini of Park dr., Back Bay, a voice teacher, would have to cease and desist giving lessons there. He told her she would also have to stop singing in the apartment, although Mme. Giardini hadn't lifted a note during the experiment.

The jurist who rendered no verdict at all on the timbre of Patrolman Davey's voice nevertheless found Mme. Giardini not guilty of disturbing the peace last month, as charged by her neighbor on the other side of the wall, Mrs. Connie Wurtz.

He stressed he was finding the singing teacher not guilty only on the date of the complaint, there being reasonable doubt in his mind on that score. But he added he would entertain whatever complaints might be made in the future.

Judge Eisenstadt sat with Mrs. Wurtz in her living room after dispatching Patrolman Davey to run up and down the scale a few times next door.

As the patrolman gave the arpeggios, Mrs. Wurtz turned to the judge and said:

"It's much louder in summer when the windows are open."

Then a soprano voice joined the patrolman's and the scale was given a more thorough exploration. It was one of Mme. Giardini's pupils, Mrs. Florence Weintraub.

Mrs. Wurtz turned to the judge again and said:

"Sometimes I have to turn a quilt over the fireplace up stairs in order to sleep."

The judge sent word to Patrolman Davey that would be enough for today, then complainant, defendant, court officers, attorneys and Patrolman Davey adjourned to the court and justice was served.

Boy, 2, Awaits Santa's Gift Of Hero Dad

Off all the Yuletide gifts jolly old Santa Claus will bring to thousands of children in Greater Boston, none will be more wonderful or welcome than the one Santa has promised to deliver to a 2-year-old Jamaica Plain boy.

For the gift of all gifts which the genial old gentleman has placed on his "must" list for little Philip Hartt, 3d, is the hero father, a Coast Guard air-sea rescue pilot, whom the boy has not seen for more than a year.

Several days ago Philip sent word to Santa, asking if he would mind bringing his daddy, Lt. Philip Hartt, Jr., 28, with him on his sleigh en route from the North Pole. The youngster said he wanted his daddy just for Christmas.

The following day Philip's mother, Mrs. Dorothea Hartt, 28, received a letter from her husband, stationed at Argentina, Nfld., advising he would be home on Christmas Eve.

"Is daddy with Santa now and will he come down the chimney with the reindeer?" the boy anxiously queried. "Yes, dear," his mother assured him, "he'll come right here and will be home with you just as you asked."

Now, each night and through most of the daytime, little Philip toddles to the fireplace, peering up the chimney just watching and waiting for Santa's arrival.

Last week Hartt piloted one of the rescue planes to the icy Goose Bay wilderness, following the crash of a Skymaster of the Air Transport Command, in which 23 of the passengers and crew were killed.

Girls Unite to Fight School Ban on Slacks

CAMDEN, N. Y., Dec. 16 (AP)—Jeannette Delahunt, 14, counted today on support from about 10 classmates in her strike against a school rule banning girls' slacks. The group of eighth-grade girls called at Jeannette's home, her father reported, to say they would don slacks in rebellion against the school's refusal to admit their friend to classes unless she wore a dress.

$450 Cited as Jump In Family Living Cost

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics told Congress today it costs an average family of four in 34 major cities about $450 more a year to maintain a "modest" standard of living now than it did 22 months ago. Almost a third of this goes for food.

The annual budget for such a family ranged from $3004 in New Orleans to $3458 in Washington as of last June, the bureau said, and since then consumer prices have jumped another 4.3 per cent.

Ewan Claude, commissioner of labor statistics, said the average family for the purposes of his report is an employed father, a housewife and two schoolchildren under the age of 15.

MODEST STANDARD
He termed the budget on which his figures were based as "an attempt to describe and measure a modest but adequate American standard of living."

The report said the cost of food, largest single item in the budget, ranged last June from $1000 a year in Cincinnati to a little under $1100 in New York and Seattle, averaging about $20 a week.

This compared with March, 1946, figures of around $15 a week. The 33.1-3 per cent increase in food costs was the greatest for any budget item except local taxes, which increased sharply everywhere—in some cities, as much as 100 per cent.

Cost of housing increased little from March, 1946, to last June, the report said, but under the new rent control act "rents have risen further."

The budget provided for automobile ownership by 40 per cent of the families in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia by a 74 per cent in the other 31 cities. The report remarked:

BOSTON, N. E. FIGURES

"Typically, the cars owned by families at the budget level are about eight years old and cost about $350 (after trade-in allowances) in 1941. At that time, cheap, second-hand automobiles were available."

"This budget does not allow for the replacement of auto-

Parking Meter Showdown Due Next Week

The vexing controversy over parking meters for Boston is scheduled for a showdown at next week's meeting of the City Council, with members belligerent over the suggestion that graft exists in municipal politics.

In the latest airing of the meter situation, Councilor Perlie Dyar Chase declared there is no demand for parking meters but, if they must come, it would be better if the city buy them direct from the manufacturer and save $700,000 in commissions.

"Let no one split a 20 per cent commission on parking meters," Dyar shouted. "There need be no rakeoff. Buy direct. Don't let anyone get a cut."

This suggestion of possible graft brought condemnation from Councilor Michael L. Kinsella, who declared that 98 per cent of graft offers come from petitioners.

In commenting on the suggestion by the new pastor of Tremont Temple that grafting politicians be branded with a "C" for crook, Kinsella said:

"Business leaders of supposedly high character and integrity think nothing of calling up a public office holder and promising a reward if the office holder votes 'right' on a matter pending."

3 Firemen Win Praise For Extraordinary Service

Three Boston firemen, Ladderman John F. Cass, Engine 37; Capt. Robert Walsh, Engine 14, and Hoseman William J. Buckley, Rescue 2, were commended at a roll call at all fire houses today.

Walsh and Buckley were praised by Judge Samuel Eisenstadt, Roxbury Court, for their capture of a man who assaulted a girl in the Back Bay Dec. 3. Buckley received a high commendation for underwater work in locating a submerged automobile which carried a man to his death in the Charles river the same day.

Arthur Crosby Wins Salem Council Seat in Recount

SALEM, Dec. 16—Councilor Arthur H. Crosby, Abion, was re-elected for a sixth two-year term as Ward 4 Councilor here today following a recount which gave him 865 votes to 858 for Thomas F. Tighe.

Crosby demanded a recount as a result of the Dec. 2 election which first showed Tighe, a newcomer to politics, the victor by two votes.

Home Town Hails Truman Concert

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 16 (INS)—Miss Margaret Truman, daughter of the President sang before an artist's toughest critic—a home town audience—and came through with a creditable performance last night in her first appearance as soloist in Kansas City.

The audience of 2700 persons, many of them not music lovers, was cool during the opening 12-14-15 numbers but warmed after two French folk songs and the difficult "La Feuvette."

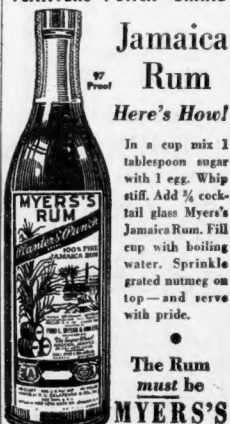

The singer's charm won out during her four encores, which included a Nocturne and a lullaby.

Haydn's "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" seemed the best suited for the development and range of her voice.

Judge Keniston's Son to Wed Coed

A Boston University coed, Miss Priscilla C. Leathers of Summer st., Hingham and Davis B. Keniston, Jr., MIT engineering student and son of Municipal Court Justice Keniston will wed Saturday in Arlington Street Church as a result of a five-day waiver granted by Municipal Court Judge

Joseph E. Donovan.

Although the wedding date long had been set, the couple forgot to file their intentions in time and had to resort to a waiver so that Rev. Dana McLean-Greeley could officiate on schedule.

Miss Leathers was graduated from Hingham High School in 1941 and served in the WAVES during the war. Keniston was in the Army Air Force.

Churchill Gets Legacy Of Smiling Buddha

LONDON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Winston Churchill was bequeathed a seated cross-legged Buddha, brought by the late Gen. Ian Hamilton from a deserted Burmese temple near Mandalay. Terms of Hamilton's will were published today. It said:

"In the worst stress of politics and when the heathen most do rage, a glance at the placid features of this emblem of Divinity will help him to keep on smiling."

Irwin Hunt Leads to Check Of Bay State Auto Auctions

Boston detectives today were mingling with automobile buyers at auctions throughout the state in search for Eugene T. Irwin, Dorchester automobile dealer, who vanished mysteriously Dec. 4, while carrying $7000 in cash.

Sought are two men who disappeared at about the same time as Irwin. Latest auction spots covered—Brockton and Concord—have disclosed no trace of the missing pair.

Meanwhile, Capt. John McCarthy of the Milk st. station continued a check of the financial status of the missing Dorchester man, especially financing of a great number of automobiles he has bought and resold this year.

McCarthy conferred with one finance company and found that cars sold by Irwin had been financed through this company but there was nothing in the transactions that shed light on a reason for his disappearance.

Other detectives checked isolated areas in Millbury, Sutton and the Blue Hills in the belief Irwin may have been slain for his $7000 and dumped in a secluded district.

'Y' Swimmer Rescues Boy, 6, From Drowning

NORTH ADAMS, Dec. 16—A 12-year-old junior in the Y.M.C.A. swimming classes here was being hailed as a hero today.

He is Richard Morin of State st., who saved Anthony Scarpitto, 6, also of State st., from drowning in the Hoosac river after the latter had plunged through thin ice. Richard saw the boy fall through and dived fully clothed to rescue him.

Slays Mother of 2, Ends Own Life

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Dec. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Hoke, 27, red-haired mother of two children, and Carl Eric Rosander, 33, father of four children, were found shot to death in an automobile parked on a little-traveled road.

Dr. J. R. Matthews, coroner, returned a verdict of murder and suicide. He said Rosander apparently shot Mrs. Hoke through the side of the head with a .38-calibre pistol and then fired a bullet through the roof of his mouth.

Mrs. Hoke, her husband Ralph, and their children lived a short distance from where Rosander's car was parked.

Protest Romanian Red Cross in U.S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The New York Times says it has learned that the American Red Cross has sent a protest to the Romanian legation in Washington over "the use in this country of the Red Cross name and emblem by the Romanian Red Cross."

"The protest was intended to 'acquaint' the legation with the terms of the federal act of 1905, which constitutes the charter of the American Red Cross and limits the use of its name and emblem," the paper says, adding:

"It also reminded the legation of the international understanding among members of the League of Red Cross Societies that one Red Cross society will not go into the territory of another without the consent of the indigenous society."

General Strike in Sicily Reported by Red Paper

ROME, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Communist newspaper L'Unita reported today that a general strike in the Sicilian port of Catania and the province of the same name had been proclaimed by the local Chamber of Labor. The paper said the strike had been called to support a demand for unemployment relief—the same demand which led to a two-day general strike in the Rome area last week. Catania has a population of about 240,000.

Newton Priest Drops Charge Of Atheism Against Teacher

Fears of Newton parents that their children were being indoctrinated with atheism in the Newton schools were allayed today after a meeting of the Newton School Committee with Rev. Thomas F. Murphy, pastor of Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, who hurled the original "Godless" charge.

Chairman David W. Tibbott of the school board made the following announcement after a closed session and investigation of the priest's charge that a man teacher in a junior high school had "denied the direct creation of Adam and Eve by God."

"Careful investigation has been completed of the report relative to alleged remarks of a teacher at a Newton junior high school regarding the theory of evolution. Investigation discloses no necessity of any action."

This declaration came after Fr. Murphy withdrew his charge of "atheism" and submitted this statement:

"I wish to state that the problem brought about by the complaints of some of our children at the junior high school has been solved in a completely satisfactory manner. Furthermore, I assure the parents of the children who brought the matter to our attention that they have no further cause for concern."

Poisoning

said. "It definitely was not accidental."

The sheriff called in State Trooper Alfred Bouchard after Mrs. Hastings and Brown were stricken to open search for the poisoner.

Only the keen taste sense of Mrs. Hastings saved both from death. She had taken but one gulp when she noticed its bitter flavor and cried out to Brown:

"Don't drink any more, Tom. There's something wrong with it."

IN CONVULSIONS

Within seconds, the couple slipped from their chairs in convulsions before the eyes of 22 other persons who eat in the hall where the couple were poisoned.

"Mrs. Hastings cooks the meals for Jailer Brown and 22 who eat with them," Sheriff McCusker said.

"Brown usually serves. Whoever poisoned them had a grudge and smuggled the strychnine in, slipping it into their drinks suddenly when their backs were turned or when they had gone out for a minute to the kitchen.

"The strychnine must have come from outside the jail. There is none used here for any reason at all.

"Brown and Mrs. Hastings had mixed their milk and a brown powder prescribed for them. It was some time after they mixed the drink, and before they got around to drinking it, that the poison was administered. No poison was found in the jar in which the powder is kept."

Supt. William George, who also is a devotee of the special health drink, mixed a potion for himself. There was no poison in it, according to Sheriff McCusker, and the superintendent showed no ill effects, giving evidence that the poisoner was plotting then against the jailer and the matron.

Trooper Bouchard ordered all Claremont druggists to report to-day with their books showing who purchased strychnine during the last few weeks.

Police also sent a state-wide broadcast to druggists to report at once such sales in all sections of the state and furnish the names of any persons who had made a purchase under mysterious circumstances.

"We have the poisoner right here under lock and key," Sheriff McCusker said. "It's just a process of elimination."

Probers Bare Sewer Bribes In Fall River

FALL RIVER, Dec. 16—An ever-widening probe of municipal graft reopens here Thursday with convening of a special grand jury to hear evidence that certain members of the city council have collected the first installment of a big bribe from a Boston contractor at work on a $1,400,000 sewer project.

Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Hurley ordered the grand jury back to work on the strength of reports that certain councilors held up the sewer project for nearly a year until arrangements could be made to receive as a kickback a percentage of the sewer appropriation.

According to evidence allegedly uncovered by Asst. Atty. Gen. George Fingold and State Police detectives, certain members had arranged to receive a bribe from the sewer contractors in installments. The first installment, it was reported, has already been paid.

In the earlier sitting of the grand jury, City Councilors John F. Doyle and Charles F. Lapointe and Public Works Comr. Thomas J. Logan were indicted in connection with another phase of the probe into alleged graft in municipal administration.

More Shops, More Goods Pledged Reds

By NATALIE RENE

MOSCOW, Dec. 16 (INS)—Soviet Minister of Trade Makarov announced today coincident with the ending of rationing that thousands of new food shops are being opened throughout Russia.

Makarov broadcast that all new establishments—bakeries, butcher shops and grocery stores—will be stocked with plentiful supplies.

The announcement was in line with official promises to the Soviet populace that despite the devaluation of the ruble their standard of living would be raised through elimination of rationing and the lowering of prices.

Government decrees for the ending of rationing and the conversion of rubles at the rate of one new ruble for 10 old rubles are effective today.

Security Council Gets Veto Row

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 16 (INS)—The highly controversial veto question—in many respects the bane of the UN—will be before the Security Council when that body reconvenes this afternoon.

Russia has exercised the veto 20 times, and, in his last speech before leaving for Europe, Soviet representative Vichinsky declared his government would employ it many, many more times if necessary.

Sec. General Trygve Lie has placed on the Security Council's agenda the General Assembly's resolution calling upon the "Little Assembly" to consult with the Security Council on measures "to ensure the prompt and effective exercise by the Security Council of its functions."

Big 4 Agree to Save Italy Subs for Scrap

The communique explained that the United States, Britain, France and Russia had agreed with the Italian position that the machinery and scrap metal of the submarines would be useful to Italy's industries.

Nubbins' Life Chance Wanes As Third Operation Nears

DENVER, Dec. 16 (INS)—Frail six-year-old Forrest "Nubbins" Hoffman's luck may be running out.

Nubbins was brought to Denver from his Cheyenne, Wyo., home for emergency treatment preceding his scheduled third operation January, but all is not going as well this time.

The spunky little boy's life, after an early Christmas party in November, 1944, when it was thought he would die, was stretched out to New Year's Eve of 1947 by surgery.

Hill-surgeon said today Nubbins was somewhat improved following the draining of his remaining kidney.

The doctor, however, added: "He's a sick boy and unless the kidney function properly, his survival chances are negligible."

He said the statement was not a prediction since "little Dickens has pulled through slimmer chances."

Meeting Called Effort To Block TelegraStrike

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16 (AP)

The government calls meeting of union and company officials today in an effort to head off a nationwide strike 50,000 Western Union employees Dec. 23. But union leaders expressed little optimism over the outcome of the conference.

Adolph Brungs, president of the Western Union Division of the Commercial Telegraphs Union, said that although the nationwide strike vote has not been completed, returns show at least 90 per cent of the union members are in favor of a walkout.

'Bulge' Battle Began Three Years Ago Today

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—This is the date the world fell in, three years ago in Belgium.

It is the anniversary of the opening of the "Battle of the Bulge."

It should also be a red-letter day in the American military calendar forever, a reminder that a failing foe always has a convulsive throe.

Out of nowhere the enemy had suddenly rallied its last reserves of tanks and guns, manned by tough, young SS troopers.

They chose to attack in an area the Americans had lightly defended in one of the calculated risks necessary in all warfare.

FAMILIAR TERRAIN

The Nazis knew the land because twice before, in 1914 and 1940, they had rolled through these pine-clad Ardennes mountains on the way to France.

Through two thinly strung out American divisions they charged—the battle-worn 28th Infantry and the untired 106th—and plunged on for more than 40 miles to within three miles of the Meuse river, a goal that would have divided the Allied forces.

What saved the Allies was the courage of combat engineers at road blocks and isolated units, hopelessly cut off, who delayed the Nazi surge for vital hours and stained white fields with the red tide of anonymous valor.

When German tanks ran dry of gasoline, the airmen of England and America raked them with rocket and bomb. But to the doughboys fell the cold torture of driving the enemy over all the lost miles of forest and mountain.

WITHOUT SUPPLIES

And, for the third straight year, the army which boasts it is the best fed and best clothed in the world had been caught without proper supplies of winter equipment.

Infantrymen wore their shoulders raw dragging food, water and ammunition across snow-laden hills. Their legs were frozen into khaki logs.

At one field hospital they carried in a captured German soldier, his leg black with gangrene.

"It'll be a change at least to take off a Nazi leg," said a surgeon grimly. "I've been taking frozen legs off American boys all morning."

Well, that nightmare is faded now for both the quick and the dead.

The quick are back in civilian life, and the Ardennes dead are still being brought back to parents who want their boys at home. Only another war—if it comes—will show whether America truly learned the bitter lesson the Germans gave in Belgium's Valley Forge of 1944.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—A campaign here against juvenile delinquency will use outstanding baseball, football and other athletic stars as youth leaders, the District of Columbia American Legion announced.

Aiding the Legion are George P. Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins football team; Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington baseball club, and Eunice Kennedy, special assistant to Atty. Gen. Clark and secretary of the Committee for the Prevention and Control of Juvenile Delinquency.

Gifts-for-Scotland Drive By Hub C of C Under Way

President Michael T. Kelleher of the Boston Chamber of Commerce announced today arrangements have been completed for start of the two-weeks campaign for $2,500,000 worth of New England gifts to be shipped to Scotland.

"Have a warm heart; give a warm gift," is the slogan for the drive in which contributions will be gathered from every community in the six states. The gifts will be loaded onto the Anchor Line S. S. Yankee Friend Ship.

In the Chamber of Commerce drive, Kelleher announced about 50 concentration points have been designated throughout New England for collection of goods.

The Yankee Friend Ship will dock at berth 12, Castle Island Terminal, Dec. 29 at noon, and the final loading hour will be 5 p. m., next Jan. 3. President Kelleher emphasized that cash donations and cases of foods were the principal items needed because of the comparatively short time of the campaign. Cash should be sent to President Allan Forbes of the State Street Trust Co.

Kelleher today called upon the Governors of the six New England states to name Yankee Friend Ship representatives in every city and town.

The cargo, to alleviate suffering and privation in Scotland, will include food, clothing, blankets and bedding, drugs, surgical, sanitary and hospital supplies.

Green to Strive For Lewis Return

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—AFL President William Green pledged today that AFL leaders will "do all within our power" to bring John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers back into the federation.

Lewis pulled his 600,000-member union out of the AFL last Friday. In a curt, crayon-scribbled "We disaffiliate" note to Green.

Green's reply, not an answer to Lewis, but a statement to the press, said the AFL membership "sincerely regrets" the UMW divorce action. He termed it a boon to labor's "enemies."

Bowling Pin Makers Strike Over CIO Link

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Dec. 16 —Workers at the Tempered Maple Corp., manufacturers of bowling pins, were out on strike today—only 24 hours after organizing into the CIO United Furniture Workers.

The strike was called when the management refused to recognize the union, claiming United Furniture Workers officials had not signed a non-Communist affidavit in compliance with the Taft-Hartley Bill.

Love Finally Conquers All for Veteran, 20, Girl Friend, 19

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16 (INS)—A heart-tugging love story which began when boy met girl at a New York city bus station ended happily in St. Louis.

Kenneth Earl West, 20, Lubbock, Tex., World War II veteran, met Virginia Flora, 19, New York, a month ago.

He said it was love at first sight. They became engaged.

Kenneth and Virginia boarded a westbound bus. At St. Louis, Virginia stayed on to visit a girl friend. Kenneth went to Texas looking for a job. He became ill and had to go to a veterans' hospital for treatment of a throat infection. He received a letter from Virginia advising him she was coming to him immediately.

He wrote a letter asking her to stay at St. Louis and he would come to her. In his illness he forgot to mail the letter, but came on to St. Louis anyway.

The letter was lost—and so was Virginia's address.

Kenneth took a job at a service station and spent off-duty hours scouring the city for Virginia.

He told his predicament to a newspaper reporter, and it was published. Virginia's girl friend read the account, told the heart-sick girl where Kenneth worked. The reunion was just as in the movies. They plan to be married soon.

So we have these engines right now. We can lift out your present one, lower a gleaming new one in its place, and there you are with one of the keenest, liveliest power plants on the road today, and with a car worth lots more when you're ready to turn it in.

It doesn't take long — far less time than a thorough overhaul. And it usually costs less in the bargain.

So here's your chance to get snappy, powerful 1947 performance. It's next best to getting a new Buick. Drop around and let us give you facts and figures.

Hearst Papers Win Aid Fight For Navajo, Hopi Indians

By KENT HUNTER

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—The campaign of the Hearst newspapers to end the suffering of the starving and freezing Navajo and Hopi Indians was won today. Neglected by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, thousands of the Indians were without food, heat or means of livelihood until the Hearst newspapers exposed their shameful condition in stories and pictures.

The campaign focussed attention on the government's neglect of its wards while giving billions for the relief of foreign nations.

Congress immediately acted. Senate and House moved with unprecedented speed to get the $2,000,000 emergency relief bill made official in time for Christmas.

The original authorization bill passed the House last week, went to the Senate Committee on Public Lands, where it was passed yesterday in amended form which required concurrence by the House.

The amended bill was rushed back across the Capitol to the House where Chairman Richard J. Welch (R.) of California of the Public Lands Committee broke in on the foreign emergency aid debate to ask concurrence in the amendment. It was granted, and the bill passed within 15 minutes.

PRESIDENT TO SIGN

It goes to the White House for President Truman's signature—which is assured because the President has personally urged the bill.

From the White House the authorization bill comes back to the Capitol for action by the appropriations committees of House and Senate, which must provide the funds but are not bound to appropriate the full amount.

Rep. Ben F. Jensen (R.) of Iowa, and Sen. Guy Cordon (R.) of Oregon, have sounded out the two appropriations committees, however, and today expressed belief the appropriation maximum will be approved.

In 1947, Americans ate 156 pounds of meat per person—the greatest per capita domestic consumption of meat in 38 years.

Reflecting increased consumption and increased prices for meat and other products it produces, Swift & Company's operation for the year resulted as follows:

TOTAL SALES ..... $2,248,766,634
PAID FOR LIVESTOCK AND
OTHER RAW MATERIALS..... 1,702,472,710
TRANSPORTATION SUPPLIES
AND OTHER EXPENSES ..... 214,886,770
PAID TO EMPLOYEES ..... 217,072,169
EARNINGS ..... 22,334,977
Earnings of $22,334,977, after reserve of $12,000,000 for high-cost additions to fixed assets, averaged 1¢ per dollar of sales.

This chart shows what becomes of the average dollar received by Swift & Company from the sale of all its products. Profits from meat operations alone averaged less than 1/4¢ per pound.

What Swift does for its profit on the products bearing its name...

PROVIDES A READY CASH MARKET FOR LIVESTOCK that farmers and ranchers raise. Most people can't go to farms to buy meat—neither can dealers. Firms like Swift are indispensable for buying meat animals, processing them, and distributing the meat where needed.

SWIFT GRADES, PROCESSES, BRANDS AND HANDLES THE MEAT IT BUYS—and has done this job of disassembling so efficiently that it has been able to market its products successfully in this extremely competitive business for over 62 years.

EFFICIENT USE OF BY-PRODUCTS REDUCES COST OF MEAT. Hides, biologicals for medicine and other by-products are saved, processed and sold in various forms. Income from this source does much to decrease Swift's costs, benefiting both producers and consumers.

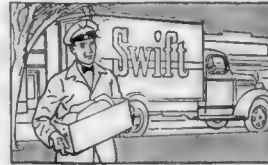

SWIFT INVESTS IN RESEARCH, ENDOWS FELLOWSHIPS IN UNIVERSITIES, to find new uses, new markets for farmers' and livestock producers' products. Exercises constant laboratory control over Swift's branded products to make sure they are the finest of their kind.

MARTHA LOGAN KITCHENS REPRESENT THE HOMEMAKER'S INTERESTS AT SWIFT & COMPANY. These nation-wide kitchens test foods under home conditions, making sure that all foods bearing the Swift name give satisfaction and greatest value per dollar possible.

SWIFT TRANSPORTS THE MEAT IT PRODUCES in refrigerated cars and trucks, and by other fast methods of transportation. It sees these vehicles en route and delivers its meat to your town in perfect, good-to-the-last-bite condition summer or winter.

DELIVERS ITS PRODUCTS INTO THE REFRIGERATOR OF YOUR DEALER. In many cases Swift performs this service for dealers several times a week. It handles countless large and small orders efficiently, cleanly, as such highly perishable foods must be handled always.

THIS VAST, NATION-WIDE ORGANIZATION REQUIRES 73,000 EMPLOYEES, who received wages and salaries during the last year amounting to over $217,000,000. This payroll is the largest item of expenditure after paying for livestock and other raw materials.

THE SWIFT NAME HELPS YOU BUY MORE WISELY—FEED YOUR FAMILY WELL.

America's Best Bargain in Service ~

In 1947, Americans ate 156 pounds of meat per person—the greatest per capita domestic consumption of meat in 38 years.

Reflecting increased consumption and increased prices for meat and other products it produces, Swift & Company's operation for the year resulted as follows:

TOTAL SALES ..... $2,248,766,634
PAID FOR LIVESTOCK AND
OTHER RAW MATERIALS 1,782,472,710
TRANSPORTATION SUPPLIES
AND OTHER EXPENSES 214,886,770
PAID TO EMPLOYEES 217,072,169
EARNINGS 22,334,977
Earnings of $22,334,977, after reserve of $12,000,000 for high-cost additions to fixed assets, averaged 1¢ per dollar of sales.

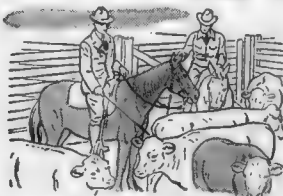

RAW MATERIALS INCLUDING LIVESTOCK 79.3%

This chart shows what becomes of the average dollar received by Swift & Company from the sale of all its products. Profits from meat operations alone averaged less than 1/4¢ per pound.

What Swift does for its profit on the products bearing its name...

PROVIDES A READY CASH MARKET FOR LIVESTOCK that farmers and ranchers raise. Most people can't go to farms to buy meat—neither can dealers. Firms like Swift are indispensable for buying meat animals, processing them, and distributing the meat where needed.

SWIFT GRADES, PROCESSES, BRANDS AND HANDLES THE MEAT IT BUYS—and has done this job of disseminating so efficiently that it has been able to market its products successfully in this extremely competitive business for over 62 years.

EFFICIENT USE OF BY-PRODUCTS REDUCES COST OF MEAT. Hides, biologicals for medicine and other by-products are saved, processed and sold in various forms. Income from this source does much to decrease Swift's costs, benefiting both producers and consumers.

SWIFT INVESTS IN RESEARCH, ENDOWS FELLOWSHIPS IN UNIVERSITIES, to find new uses, new markets for farmers' and livestock producers' products. Exercises constant laboratory control over Swift's branded products to make sure they are the finest of their kind.

MARTHA LOGAN KITCHENS REPRESENT THE HOMEMAKER'S INTERESTS AT SWIFT & COMPANY. These nation-wide kitchens test foods under home conditions, making sure that all foods bearing the Swift name give satisfaction and greatest value per dollar possible.

SWIFT TRANSPORTS THE MEAT IT PRODUCES in refrigerated cars and trucks, and by other fast methods of transportation. It keeps these vehicles en route and delivers its meat to your towns in perfect, good-to-the-last-bite condition summer or winter.

DELIVERS ITS PRODUCTS INTO THE REFRIGERATOR OF YOUR DEALER. In many cases Swift performs this service for dealers several times a week. It handles countless large and small orders efficiently, cleanly, as such highly perishable foods must be handled always.

THIS VAST, NATION-WIDE ORGANIZATION REQUIRES 72,000 EMPLOYEES, who received wages and salaries during the last year amounting to over $217,000,000. This payroll is the largest item of expenditure after paying for livestock and other raw materials.

THE SWIFT NAME HELPS YOU BUY MORE WISELY—FEED YOUR FAMILY WELL.

His Mother

You did not make your own mother. You could not!

But if you could, you certainly would have made her what you think she is now—the nicest mother in all the world.

But Jesus could make His own Mother, because He is God. He lived in Heaven long before His Mother was born.

Don't you think, therefore, that He would make her the purest, the loveliest, and the most beautiful Mother who ever lived?

She was so good that He decided He did not want to keep her just for Himself!

That would be selfish—even for God.

Jesus wanted her to be the Mother of everyone in the world.

She was good enough to be

The American presents here, with the third chapter of a great story especially appropriate for the week-before-Christmas. "Jesus, Son of Mary" is the new book by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen—the story of Jesus inspiringly told in the simple eloquence for which Msgr. Sheen is noted. Subsequent chapters will appear daily. Msgr. Sheen's book is published by Declan X. McMullen Co., Inc. The illustrations, which are selected from the book, are by Raffaele Busoni.

that, because she was always looking out for the needs of everyone else.

We see that in what happened at a party in Cana.

When Jesus was thirty years old, He and His Mother were invited to a wedding feast.

In that country everyone drank wine with his meal.

But at this party, before the dinner was over, they found that there was not going to be enough wine to go around.

Mary noticed this first.

She went to her Son and said: "They have no wine."

She knew He could do wonderful things, because He was God. And Jesus would not refuse anything His dear Mother wanted.

There were six large pots nearby. And Jesus told the waiters to fill them with water.

Then He told them to taste what was in the pots.

They were surprised to find that the water had become wine!

And when they served it at the table, it was so good that the guests asked: "Why did you keep the best wine until now?"

Jesus always remembered how much His Mother loved others, as if she wanted to be everyone else's Mother, too.

He also knew how much she wanted others to obey Him, because that day she said to the waiters: "Do what He tells you."

Three years later, when Jesus was dying, He gave away His Mother!

He could do that, too, because He was God. Turning to one of His dearest friends, John, and making him stand for everyone in the world,

Jesus said: "Behold thy mother, or pretended Mother."

And from that day to this, each of us has two mothers.

Our own mother who gave us flesh and blood, and Mary, who gave us Jesus.

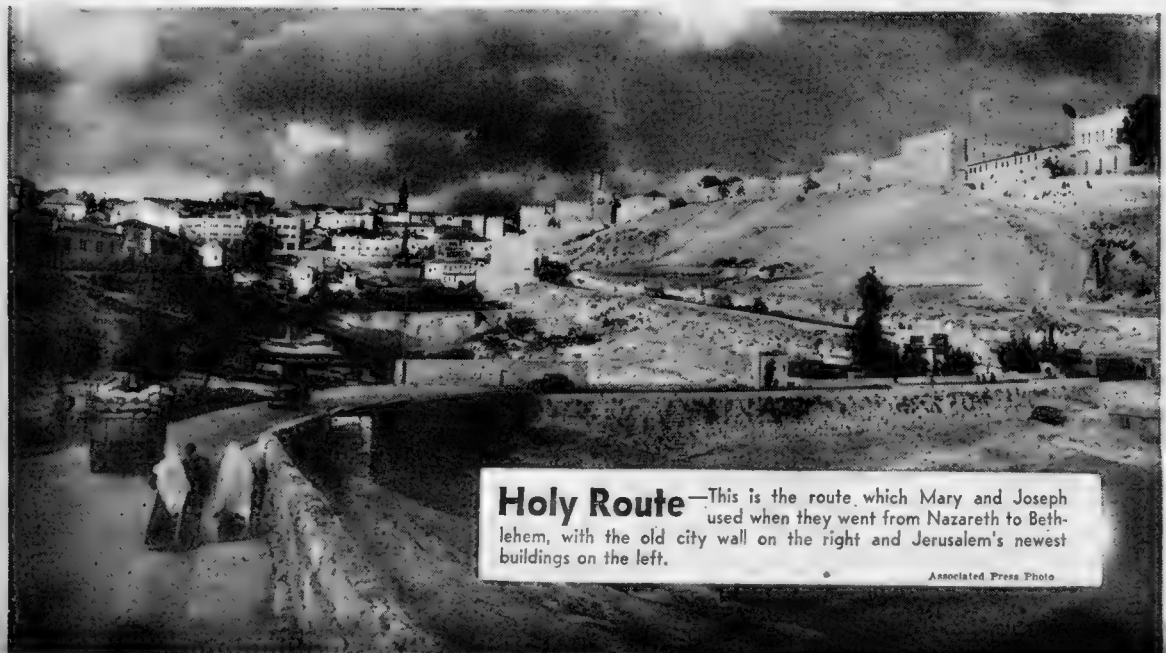

Don't forget her! You would not like it if someone came into your house and never said a word to that she did not exist.

Well, do you think that Jesus would like us if we did not love His Mother? Or if we did not pray to her?

Learn then, by heart, that lovely prayer, the Hail Mary.

Fourth chapter, "His Stories," will appear in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

Holy Route—This is the route which Mary and Joseph used when they went from Nazareth to Bethlehem, with the old city wall on the right and Jerusalem's newest buildings on the left.

WE CAN STAY PROSPEROUS

IN AN OTHERWISE optimistic analysis of business and industrial conditions in New England, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reminds us that our six States are "HEAVILY DEPENDENT UPON THE IMPORT OF RAW MATERIALS."

Two of the most important of these raw materials are coal and petroleum.

Neither commodity is to be found anywhere within our borders.

As the Federal Reserve suggests, we are at the mercy of other areas which were more generously endowed with natural resources.

We are also very much in the clutches of men like Mine Czar John L. Lewis, who could, if he so chose, close down most New England manufacturing establishments by arbitrarily cutting off their fuel supply.

THE ONLY SURE WAY to escape such dangerous reliance on outside influences is to develop and use to the utmost the natural resources which we do possess.

The most abundant and valuable natural resource is water power—the selfsame water power which built practically all our industrial communities and laid the foundation for whatever prosperity we enjoy today.

An indication of how seriously water power has been neglected may be found in a report issued recently by the progressive members of the legislative Recess Commission on Waterways who refused to accept the views of other members who had contended that little could be done about Massachusetts rivers and dug up a thirty-year-old Senate document to sustain their "do nothing" policy. This report says:

"Because water power is one of the very few natural resources with which Massachusetts has been endowed, every effort should be made to squeeze the last bit of electricity from the streams passing through the Commonwealth.

"Only within the last few weeks has the Holyoke Municipal Electric Light Department sought authorization from the Federal Power Commission for further development of the Connecticut River at Holyoke.

"It proposes to have an initial hydro-electric capacity of 44,000 kilowatts AND AN ULTIMATE DEVELOPMENT OF 88,000.

"At present the river at that point is being used to develop only 10,540 kilowatts."

Similar developments are obviously possible and practical at Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill and many other cities which have sacrificed important industries in the past quarter-century and which are now paying some of the highest rates in the Nation.

It would be extremely worth while for the Federal Reserve to make a comprehensive study of New England's shamefully neglected water power resources, with especial attention to the gigantic tidal project at Passamaquoddy, Me., and the long-obstructed St. Lawrence development.

There is no reason why New England people should continue to gamble on imported and uncertain materials like coal and petroleum, which can be cut off at any time by the whim of a John L. Lewis or by the dictates of some Washington agency.

The water power which we have in such abundance is infinitely better, cheaper and more desirable than either coal or petroleum.

HOPEFUL SIGN

FOR THE FIRST time in its history, the Boston Chamber of Commerce is admitting women to membership on an equal basis with men, and we are confident that it will be a more representative and realistic organization from now on.

Women want Boston to be the kind of city that gives their sons and daughters reasonable opportunities to get ahead in their chosen careers.

Unlike many men who attach themselves to civic groups, women are seldom satisfied with furthering their own selfish ambitions and doing little or nothing to make life better and brighter for the rest of humanity.

It would not be wrong for the Chamber to break another precedent and elect a lady director.

SATURDAY is a day off for most people now. When a lad I had an office job calling for work until 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Turned out to be a lucky break for me. I was so burned up I couldn't get off Saturday afternoon to play baseball and football I decided to quit work and go to prep school, where I could play those games every afternoon. So one September day I quit my office job and two weeks later was playing football for the best prep school in America, Phillips-Andover Academy. I was a second stringer but played in many a game with a team boasting of seven players who at college later made Camp's All-America. Not bad for a poor boy from Brooklyn. When I say a "poor boy" I'm not kidding. All I had when I left Brooklyn for Andover was a $5 bill and a pass on the Joy Steamship Line to Boston. However, at Andover it made no difference; whether a poor kid or a millionaire's son you enjoyed the same privileges.

STOGIE DEPARTMENT: Boy, am I slipping? Now I've lost a stogie on a horse question. Think of that. And I'm the fellow who won a stogie from Col. Matt Winn in a horse argument. How the mighty have fallen!

I said Fred Astaire's noble animal. Tripletate, might win the Santa Anita Maturity Stakes. Tripletate is 6 years old. The Maturity is for 4-year-olds exclusively. It was a San Franciscan who took me for the stogie. Very sharp on horses, those San Franciscans, but a little weak on understanding women.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—Tell us who Yale Boss was or resign from the young old-timers. A—He was a movie actor in the early silent film days. Contemporary of Wally Van, Flora Finch, John Bunny and Fay Tincher.

WANDERING SARDINES: The sardines are deserting the waters around the coast of California and the fishing industry there has suffered a terrific kick in the pants. Planes have been sent out to explore the ocean in search of the present locale of the sardines. Scientists have been engaged to "study the home life of the sardine." That assignment puzzles me. What will these scientists try to find out? Will they endeavor to ascertain if the sardines have some gypsy in them? Or what?

AMONG THE MARRIED: Herself and husband are the same height in stocking feet. So states a San Franciscan and adds, "but when we step out I wear the highest heels I can find and pile my hair about four inches high. My husband says this makes him feel like a midge-er. Should he wear height-building shoes?" (Not—Our H. & W. experts extend their sympathy to the husband in this case but say in the interests of preserving domestic peace and maintaining a contented wife he should wear height building shoes when taking his mate out dining and dancing.)

CAPTIOUS BLONDE: "I was a film critic once." I observed at a social gathering the other night and a nearby blonde said: "You seem to have been everything but a deep-sea diver and a flaggpole sitter. Why not tell us what you weren't, instead of what you were and save time." I just can't understand why those blondes are always picking on me. As I said before I always speak highly of them; well, nearly always.

BY THEIR STARS: Victor McLaglen and Frank Sinatra were born on the same day of the year under the sign of Sagittarius. Katherine Brush, the glamorous literary lady, was born on the same day of the year as Napoleon Bonaparte and J.J. Shubert, under the sign of Aries. What Vic and Frank have in common is difficult for me to discern. I can see Katherine Brush does have some of the characteristics of Napoleon but what she has in common with J. J. Shubert escapes me. I have queried the stargazers on this and wait their report with interest.

PASSING BY: William Harrigan. Distinguished thespian. Son of the great Ned Harrigan of Harrigan & Hart. Mr. Harrigan was for a period the husband of Louise Groody. A brilliant actor, he has played many parts with unusual skill. I liked him best in "The Acquittal." If you don't remember that you better resign from the Young Old-timers. Capt. "Hammerin' Hank" Nelson, celebrated sea dog, has been appointed commander of the new luxury liner, President Cleveland. Capt. Nelson was born in Brooklyn. Once more proving my claim that no matter what activity you name you can find in it an outstanding figure who was born in the beautiful borough across the bridge.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—I shall ever thank Dan Tobin for a perfect, all-purpose example of the stupidity of the unionism that was imposed upon the Americans by the late Roosevelt who, to do him justice, probably did not know the whole meaning of his acts.

Mr. Tobin's union, the Teamsters of the A. F. of L., bars not only Communists but partial Communists who believe selectively in parts of Communism, and all members of "other subversive organizations."

Tobin yields to none in his reverence for the memory and few of his brethren would deny that he is qualified to go forth and bumble the master's word.

THE TEAMSTERS' UNION is an ideal reservation for the loose confinement of a million head of little people, according to Mr. Big's ideas.

Although they are now split into many sects, the entire fold of the late New Deal are still united in their faith in their late prophet. Heresies, ambitions and errors divide them, but they still conquer in this devotion.

That is how it comes that Mr. Tobin and Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas of Hollywood may disagree on radicals and still drop a knee at the same shrine.

Recently, while the group from Hollywood was shrilling against the Thomas committee's treatment of the Bolsheviks, I turned for amusement of an evening to Dan's editorial outlet. This journal is called the International Teamster.

THE HOLLYWOODIANS who came down to protest said they personally rejected Communism but were fastidious liberals and scared lest even the vilest Bolshevik suffer denial of some phantom of a constitutional right.

It was a great mistake ever to tell Hollywood about the Constitution and the Bill of Rights in the first place.

Until 1934 Hollywood's whole intellectual world was bounded by sex and salary. Then some fool dropped into Chasen's one night with this book where it says about the Supreme Court and freedom of religion, and if you want to know the real trouble with the movies ever since, that is it.

The standard arguments about censorship, freedom of speech and such topics are available in little ten-cent books put out by the leftists.

The glamorous creatures memorized them all and sailed into our nation's capital, hamming their recitations like a six-year-old with curlicue squawking "The Wreck of the Hesperus."

They thought the committee was fixing to send some of their mischievous neighbors to prison for being Communists. Actually, by a comic paradox, we have refused ourselves a law to permit that.

But the committee was asserting its congressional right to ask questions and demand answers. Refusal to answer is contempt of Congress, punishable by a year in jail and a fine of $1000.

IT IS TRUE, of course, that a few real Communists were about to be squeezed out of their voluptuous Hollywood jobs, but no intelligent liberal in the ruthless Roosevelt political tradition could object to that.

For years, Tobin's union had been pledged to throw Americans out on the merest suspicion and thousands had been ostracized from Hollywood and Washington jobs by the New Deal.

I remind you that it was a favorite union of the late Roosevelt which did this. With jurisdiction over a million citizens, its constitution provided first for trial by the executive board of the defendant's local.

Thereafter the victim could appeal up to the union's own court of last resort, the national convention, holden every fourth, fifth or sixth year.

Meanwhile, however, he was forbidden to take his trouble to the public courts, which refuse to accept jurisdiction until all "remedies within the union" have been "exhausted."

Meanwhile, also, a teamster with a hungry family goes without work or pay and when he finally does arrive at the public courts he finds the door barred because the union's process has dragged on so long that the statute of limitations has outlawed the case.

THIS WASN'T sufficient for Tobin, however, so in the recent national convention in San Francisco the constitution was amended to terminate the appeals at Tobin's own little board of political advisers, the executive council.

No longer may the ill-used highway freighter appeal to the convention, but the final decision may still be delayed just as long because Tobin et al. don't have to give a decision until they are pleased to.

Moreover, membership in "other subversive organizations" was now forbidden without definition.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 (INS)—Red Skelton may have scared his ex-wife, Edna, who is also his business manager, out of 10 years of her life, saying he would buy his contract from M-G-M for $750,000 if they would let him go. But, apparently, he isn't going to be a silly boy and walk out. When he finishes "Fulcrum" at Columbia, he returns to M-G-M for "The Southern Yankee" with Sylvan Simon, who has made most of Red's best comedies, directing.

Edna (Skelton) Borzage

That Skelton is one of those rare people, few and far between, who are 100 per cent loyal and ever since Simon started him off as a screen star in "Whistling in the Dark," Red's been sold on him—even to taking him along for his loan-out to Columbia.

Ava Gardner, much discussed beauty, plays the lead in "Southern Yankee" but not until she finishes Venus in "One Touch of Venus" at Universal-International.

DAVID NIVEN had better hurry up and finish "Bonnie Prince Charlie" in London because he's got a bonnie job waiting for him in London. He's along for the top male role opposite Joan Crawford in "Unto Proven Guilty" at Warners' and Jerry Wald has been trying to get a definite answer from David for days.

This is a rewrite of the Ben Hecht play, "Ladies of the Jury," which starred Helen Hayes on the stage. It is not the recent Louise Overell-Bud Gullum case as has been printed. If you've seen the play, you know it's just a strong courtroom drama about the effect of a sensational case on the personal life of a woman juror.

EVERY TIME Richard Haydn shows up in the supporting cast of a movie I perk up and know I'm going to enjoy the picture just double. That's how good he is.

So, at first, I was disappointed to hear he's stepping behind the cameras to direct "The Tattler Millions" for Paramount—but hold on—he isn't really giving up acting. His new arrangement is something like Elliot Nugent's. If a role comes along he likes, he will do it and the rest of the time he will direct.

Haydn has lined up an attractive cast for his first. Cute little Wanda Hendrix (my money is on her for 1948) is the heroine and John Lund the co-star.

REMIND ME not to mention Academy Awards possibilities. My phone never stopped ringing from other studios who have pictures in the running after I said, "Gentlemen's Agreement" is one to beat.

Yes, I remember Warners' "Life With Father," and I didn't say any one picture was going to win—and I remember that William Powell has a fine chance to get the prize.

I haven't forgotten R.K.O.'s "Mourning Becomes Electra," with Rosalind Russell, nor Sam Goldwyn's "The Bishop's Wife," nor David Selznick's "Paradise Case," which I haven't seen yet, but which I hear is good, nor any of the others, including Universal-International's "Double Life" which is also still locked up.

Boys, I'm not out to urge anyone to vote for any picture. After all, everyone who is entitled to vote should pick the movie he thinks is best and is the greatest credit to our industry.

CHATTER in Hollywood: I want to compliment Seymour Nebenzal on his good sense in deleting scenes in "Atlantis" as soon as the Johnston office said they were objectionable. Instead of trying to get publicity by defying Johnston, he is submitting to cutting two of the biggest love scenes in the story between Maria Montez and her husband, Jean Pierre Aumont.

Nebenzal said, "I could fight it, of course, because there's a question whether or not it is censorable. But I think right now Hollywood has had enough trouble, so I'm not even going to give an argument, although I do not think it hurts my picture."

GENE RAYMOND is slated for the same switcheroo Dick Powell made. I mean, reversing his type from a straight hero to a hard-hitting, hard-boiled detective. He will be assigned to "Danger" for Eagle-Lion.

It was just about this time last year that Gene signed Noreen Nash as a directing-starring contact with Brynne Foy, but before he could get going, he went East for shows with Gertrude Lawrence and Mary Boland. This is his first movie since "The Lockett."

Gene's co-star is Noreen Nash, wife of Dr. Lee Siegel and one of the prettiest women in Hollywood. She will be a little on the wisecracking side herself, in this one.

HEDY LAMARR has in her hands at this moment the consistent story of "Elizabeth of Austria," given to her by Melvin Levy, author of "Gold Eagle Guy," "The Last Pioneers," "The Thomas Jefferson play," "The Democrats," and "The Bandit of Sherwood Forest."

Hedy is very interested in the tragic story of Francis Joseph's beautiful and brilliant Hungarian-born queen who tried to serve their empire. It is one of the most beautiful love stories of European history and of an era that is no more.

Hedy would be beautiful in the court costumes of that period. Too bad it couldn't be made in Vienna, where Elizabeth reigned.

SNAPSOTS of Hollywood collected at random:

Gene Kelly still limps and limps and won't be able to dance for another two months. Tony Martin's many dates with Isabella are well worth watching.

Larry Barbier, well known press agent, is now a grandfather. His daughter, Mrs. Gerald Smith, welcomed a daughter at St. John's Hospital.

Jack Carson is doing his best to get Warners to buy Richard Emery's novel "Sugarplum Staircase."

And R. K. O. has taken an option on "Our Son Pablo" for Melvyn Douglas, who said he was enthused.

How do you like this for a cute one—the Heidi-Heidi baby is named Heidi-Heidi Heindorf? That will make her many friends.

Remember stuttering Sam Dowell? Well, she's adopted a baby. She is now Mrs. Sigmund Hendly.

Thomas Gomez who did such a swell job in "Ride the Pink Horse" is up for an important role in "Key Largo." I hope Warners are able to borrow him. He's such a good actor.

TYRONE POWER eating by himself in the Lanel room of the Beverly Hills hotel, with all the femmes looking in his direction. Don't worry, girls, he had a late date.

When Walter Kane gets better, he's going to have more deals coming his way than he can handle.

The McDonald Careys call their new house atop a Hollywood hill Macbeth. That's a combination of their names. Mac is his nickname and Beth, Mrs. Carey's name.

Eve Arden is taking "Biography" to Broadway to produce and star in it. She's lined up $75,000 worth of backing, and all she needs is a theater for spring presentation.

A new paper added to the list. The Las Vegas Review-Journal is publishing my column.

That pretty girl with Bob Sterling at the Dellis was his sister, Nela Hart.

Lionel Shapiro, who wrote "The Sign of the Cross" for Cosmopolitan magazine, is here to consult with Paramount about his production. Shapiro is writing a new book about postwar Italy. Have we a Cosmopolitan? Bet we have.

Gene Kelly sounds like a press agent's dream. Jeanne Crain and her husband Paul Brinkman going on a safari to shoot pictures of wild animals after the manner of the late Martin Johnson. In other words, they were interested in jungle pets after they had that lion cub.

RANDOM HARVEST. Public officials have short memories (so the job-seekers say). Oh, yeah? Listen to this. Although many men forget their wedding anniversaries, Bob Bradford remembered the man from whom he bought the bridal bouquet. It happened at the Boston Flower Exchange. The Governor was making an inspection when J. W. Robertson of Cambridge dropped in. They were introduced and Bob immediately said: "Bought my wife's bridal bouquet from you 21 years ago." Carlotta Paul, torch singer at the Satire Room, is half Indian. Her Cherokee mother was one of the Ziegfelds' 6-ft. showgirls. "A Street Car Named Desire" (late of the Wilbur) is one of the smash hits of years on Broadway. . . . Alan Carney vows Latin Quarteries with this Barry Fitzgerald past: "May you be in Heaven half an hour before the devil discovers you're dead."

STILL HARVESTING. We hear the children at Chardon Street Home will have Christmas dinner but no tree or gifts. Looks like a chance for some organization to turn out an act of charity. (One was asked to do so yesterday, couldn't see its way clear to add the children to its Christmas Party at a big hotel) . . . Latest Harvard football rumor: Bill Bingham suggested to Dick Harlow that he step out of active coaching, make way for another. Dick refused but offered to let the players decide. Bill couldn't see that. (Dick's contract has two years to run) . . . Maiden's Louis E. Boutwell, new sheriff of Middlesex County, will be sworn in at Commonwealth Armory—in Suffolk County. (It takes place tomorrow night before his old air command) . . . Melori Shoe Corp. of Roxbury turns out its millionth pair of Toni Drake women's shoes this week.

GRIST OF THE MILL: Ed Luckenbach, producer of "The Men We Marry" (Plymouth, Dec. 29), is only 23, inherited $3,000, 000 from his shipping magnate dad. Can't somebody shut off that loud-speaker in Medford sq.? (Imagine listening to radio all day, whether you want to or not) . . . Kitty Coyne, the war correspondent, has been assigned permanently to the State House, setting a precedent for the fair sex here. . . . The united front of Massachusetts veterans organizations made a tremendous impression on Washington, is being hailed throughout the country. First Congress realized what was up was when the roll was called in the House and not a single Massachusetts member was present. Soon dozens of other Congressmen joined the Bay State members, listening to our veterans' leaders (who were praised for having facts, not fancies) . . . Meanwhile, both the American Legion and DAV are investigating the Veterans Administration on a national scale.

GRAIN OF NEWS. Harry Marsh said a temporary farewell to the Oval Room last night, is off for a round of debutante parties on the Yuletide circuit in the Middle West. (The capable Jack Edwards fills in) . . . Paul Whelton's latest Garry Dean thriller, "Women Are Skin Deep," emerges Jan. 14 . . . Santa arrives by helicopter with gifts for Pembroke, Hanson and Halifax children, next Saturday afternoon, at the annual Christmas party given by Marcus Urann, president of the National Cranberry Ass'n, in Hanson. . . . E. M. Loew, who owns 52 theaters hereabouts, night clubs in New York and Florida, quips that the only way to make money now in the entertainment business is by losing less. . . . Mickey Redstone and his missus celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary Sunday. . . . Mickey has arranged to spend $150,000 for Latin Quarter shows through March. A large slice will go to Lena Horne, Phil Brito, the Inkspots, Rudy Vallee, Sophie Tucker (who goes from here to England), Jackie Miles and Joe E. Lewis—a milky way of stars.

MORE OF THE SAME. A friend got balled up in the new telephone numbers. He called a girl but the voice on the other end said: "There's nobody by that name here." "Has she moved?" asked my friend. "Nobody moves here," was the reply. This is Feeney, the undertaker. . . . Martha Raye, recently here, booked into the Cordellian Room (largest night club in the world, seating 1800) at the Concord Hotel, Monticello, N. Y., a favorite with many Bostonians. . . . Bert Lahr, currently in "Burlesque" on Broadway, will sign with the Shuberts for their revival of the Ziegfeld Follies, to be produced in the spring. . . . And Olson & Johnson, upon returning from Hawaii two weeks hence, will produce a new "Hoopzappin'" for big places like our Arena.

STILL GRINDING IT OUT. New York papers picked up our item about Dick Aldrich (Gertrude Lawrence's hubby) and his plans to bring the Gate Theater from Dublin. . . . Can't something be done about the dripping gutters on downtown buildings? (The drips) . . . Sens. NEW YORK, Dec. 16—A conveyer of us eagle-eyed sleuths, including New York Police Commissioner Arthur Wallender, First Deputy Commissioner Thomas Mulligan, and an ex-copper named William O'Dwyer, has been hard at work deducing. We have been trying to solve the mystery of Millie at Gracie Mansion.

The latter is a very high-class trap, reeking with history, which Fiorello La Guardia took over as the mayoral mansion. It used to be a museum and you still sort of expect an assistant curator to pop from a wall panel and tell you the chairs are to be looked at, not squatted in.

This ex-copper O'Dwyer lives there now, but every so often he becomes overruled by the austere splendor and has to take an antidote. This usually consists of inviting a battalion of singing cops to dinner.

There is nothing like a horde of coppers, singing loud and Irishly, to transform a mansion into Gracie's kitchen. I wish our Washington society hostesses would do the same.

Mayor O'Dwyer has become a great authority on the history of Gracie Mansion since taking up residence.

"It was right from this place," he said, "that Washington Irving wrote his 'Essay on Hell Gate.' That's Hell Gate below us. Washington built a fort on this exact location. The British had come up from Staten Island and Bath Beach and Washington knew this was the logical place for them to pass."

"By covering Hell Gate from this spot, Washington was able to fight his great delaying action. You can also see Astoria across the river."

"I understand children cry for Astoria," notified an interloper named Gene McHugh. "What did you kids do there?"

"Nothing that I know of," replied the mayor. "We're finished with Washington for the time being. It was from this spot that a trader named John Jacob Astor, who came originally from the town of Waidorf in Germany—hence the Waidorf-Astoria—sent two expeditions to the Pacific Coast."

"They arrived almost simultaneously and established the community of Astoria, Washington. In other words, they went from Astoria to Astoria."

The Mayor then dropped his voice to a confidential whisper. "There's a mystery around here," he said. "We can't discover what happened to Millie."

At the word "mystery," Commissioner Wallender perked up his ears and looked deductive. (Note to printer: For Heaven's sake don't make the word "seductive.") You could see his professional pride had been aroused.

"Tell us about it, boss," he said, "and we'll get to the bottom of it."

"I don't think you will," said the Mayor. "The trail is cold. We don't know whether Millie was a vandal or the object of someone's passion."

By George Dixon

suspense" pleaded Mr. William Donoghue, the Mayor's executive assistant. "What about Millie?"

"Well," said the mayor, "the original glass is in the windows and on one pane is scratched—with a diamond, I think—this message: 'Millie—1815.' We can't determine whether Millie did it herself or whether it was the work of a love-love swain."

There was heavy silence for a moment, while we tried to make up our minds whether it would be cricket to kick the mayor of New York City. Then Mr. Donoghue said slowly:

"I don't think I care, one way or the other, about Millie. She'd be a little too old for me now."

The REAL culprit was never tried!

More and more children are heading for a life of crime... needlessly! As this authoritative article shows, there's a lot you can do to prevent it...

by DAVID W. ARMSTRONG
Executive Director
Boys' Clubs of America

David W. Armstrong

A BOY IN COURT is a disturbing sight, but 108,000 youngsters were arrested last year. According to the F.B.I., more burglaries were committed by 16-year-olds than by adults 35 to 39!

Shocking facts! Sometimes the blame must be laid to the neglect or carelessness of parents. Often they and the children are losers in the battle against poor environment or lack of money.

Just the other day I was asked for advice by the judge of a juvenile court. He had three boys before him awaiting sentence for holding up a grocery store. One of them, whom we will call Chuck Connor, had a good record before this misstep. The judge wondered if he could be safely paroled.

I told the judge I thought so... if I could talk to Chuck's parents.

Without knowing it, Mr. and Mrs. Connor had been guilty of what is by far the largest cause of juvenile delinquency: lack of parental guidance and interest. Chuck had been allowed to drop out of all activities which would have kept him busy and interested—and away from gangs and street corners. His parents gave familiar reasons: lack of time to think of his problems; no money for his hobbies.

"Son, we'll have to punish you for this!!!"

I told them what I tell all parents: children must be encouraged to take part in any wholesome outlet for their energies. The church, playgrounds, youth-serving organizations... there are many ways of filling the dangerous vacuum of idleness where delinquency breeds.

Extra problems for parents

Today's difficult times make extra problems for parents... and make it more important than ever that they plan help for their children. If you are very busy you must plan time to spend on them. And if a dollar here and there is needed... for camping equipment, a model airplane, a ball bat, a stamp album... they should be provided for in the family financial plan. Set aside money for these as you would money for your children's food—in fact, they are food, for the heart and spirit.

Bad management of the family money (and the unhappy homes which result) often gives young people a sense of insecurity, drives them to street life. The best time to do something about juvenile delinquency is before it starts.

It isn't hard when you plan together!

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

• Budgeting for your children's hobbies is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money when you need it, if you'll follow these rules:

FOR TODAY... The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc.

So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also, every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then, you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusements, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW... We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change... living costs... taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance, that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Gridiron Speech Tabs Martin As GOP Presidential Timber

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
Special to The Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—The outstanding development of Washington's busy political week, centering around the Gridiron Club's winter dinner Saturday night, was the emergence upon the capital scene of House Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts, as a 1948 Republican presidential possibility of major significance.

The stocky editor—his closest friends didn't suspect he had it in him—stole the show, even from President Truman, with what was probably the best post-prandial speech heard at the Gridiron board since the days of Chauncey Depew.

It was perfectly timed, witty, pungent, barbed with some sharp points, heavily flavored with partisan politics, and yet delivered with such gentleness of humor that at the end President Truman, at whom the velvet stabs had been aimed, left his seat at the head table, passed down the line a few paces, and shook Joe warmly by the hand.

When it came time for the President to deliver the formal speech of the evening, he addressed most of his remarks right at Joe. By Gridiron Club's rules, all speeches at these dinners are strictly off the record.

It may well turn out that Speaker Martin's prominence as a front-rank Republican presidential possibility will date from Saturday night's banquet.

This writer will be greatly surprised if he does not go to Philadelphia in June with the Massachusetts delegation in his pocket. The Speaker is right up in front from now on, and you may lay to that!

To Lick Inflation

EVERYBODY IN AMERICA wants to halt the inflationary pressures that have been driving prices up. At the same time, we all want to maintain the standard of living of the American people, and provide the necessary amount of aid to foreign nations.

To accomplish all three of these high purposes, the following 12-point program is offered by the National Association of Manufacturers—in the public interest.

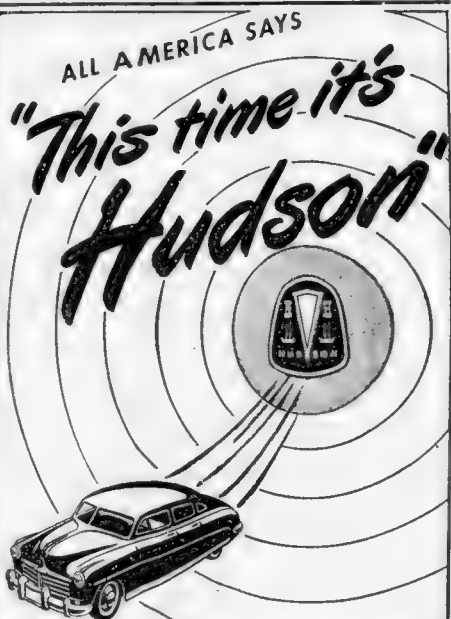

1. Reduce government spending by maximum efficiency in administration; eliminating excessive government personnel and activities; and postponing all government expenditures not immediately necessary.
2. Provide funds for further capital investment by making an immediate and substantial reduction of individual income tax rates.
3. Adopt a systematic plan for paying off the public debt, with provision for a minimum annual debt retirement of $2½ billion.
4. Offer, and vigorously promote a new long-term government bond issue having an interest-bearing rate attractive to individual investors; the proceeds to be used to retire government bonds held by banks.
5. Discourage inflationary expansion of bank credit by permitting interest rates to seek their own levels free of government domination.
6. Redoubling, by management, of its efforts to increase production, to lower unit costs, and to pass on the benefits of such increased productivity to the public.
7. Encourage management to plow back earnings and increase output, by eliminating present U. S. Treasury pressure on business to distribute at least 70 per cent of its profits as dividends.
8. Encourage labor leaders to forego demands for further general increases in wages without a corresponding increase in productivity, except in cases of gross inequity.
9. Set aside all restrictions on individual productivity not essential to the safety and health of employees, and remove all feather-bedding rules.
10. Give emergency foreign relief in goods, not in dollars, with an American relief agency making the necessary purchases of whatever goods in whatever markets, here or abroad, prove most economical, and identify them as having been provided by the United States.
11. Finance, to the greatest extent feasible, reconstruction loans to foreign countries, as distinct from gifts and grants, through the World Bank and private sources rather than out of taxes collected from the American public.
12. Provide maximum incentive for increased production abroad by requiring foreign nations, as a condition of our aid, to establish sound currencies and to modify and eventually eliminate price control and other controls over the internal production and distribution of commodities.

Halsey, Stassen Urge Congress Pass UMT Plan

Special to the Boston American
BALTIMORE, Dec. 16—Adm. William F. Halsey, regarded as one of the greatest sea fighters of all time, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota voiced vigorous pleas for adoption of universal military training by America.

In exclusive interviews with a representative of the Hearst newspapers, both urged that Congress act immediately on UMT legislation. They heartily approved the Hearst newspapers' demand that a UMT law be passed with all possible speed.

Adm. Halsey said:

"Universal military training before Pearl Harbor would have been of inestimable value and unquestionably would have led to speedier victory.

"Thousands of boys' lives would have been saved."

Stassen, Halsey's flag secretary in the South Pacific, said:

"This is not a political issue. UMT should be supported by all parties and by people everywhere as essential to America's continued existence.

"This interval between wars is a most critical period. Congress should act now to guard our nation's future."

The interviews followed dedication of a bust of Halsey at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis.

JUST A VISIT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 16 (AP)—A circuit court jury awarded a $230 judgment to R. L. Odom, textile mill worker and part-time preacher, against Della Hawkins, who he said came to his home for dinner and stayed five months.

Odom testified that Miss Hawkins, an elderly victim of arthritis, came to his home in July, 1946, announced herself as his fourth cousin and indicated she had come for dinner.

He said he had not seen her in 18 years and was unaware she was a relative. Testimony revealed Miss Hawkins chose a bed in Odom's home and stayed five months.

Japan Survey Shows 401,600,000 Homeless

TOKYO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Kyodo news agency took a look at this prostrate nation today in the third winter since the surrender, and observed:

"One million, 600,000 persons are searching with bloodshot eyes for homes."

A survey showed 19,000 families are living in shacks and more than 2000 families in air raid shelters in Tokyo. Destroyed by fire bombs were 769,000 homes, and an additional 207,000 were torn down for firebreaks.

Drag River Again for Girl, 8, Life-Termer Admits Killing

BLUE RIVER, Wis., Dec. 16 (AP)—Searchers planned to resume dragging the Wisconsin river today in an attempt to find the body of Georgia Jean Weckler, 8, after a life-term convict at Waupun State Prison confessed he and a companion killed the child last May and dumped her body into the stream.

Bulford Sennett, 22, confessed and sentenced rapist-slayer, yesterday pointed out the spot where he said he had thrown the drugged and bullet-riddled body of the Fort Atkinson farm girl.

It was the same spot where last month Sennett had tossed the body of Carl Carlson, a University of Wisconsin student, into the river.

A raging current fought against the diver who was sent down after the body yesterday. Authorities today planned to plant a large snow ploy in the current as a breakwater.

After Sennett stood on the bridge for 40 minutes yesterday aiding searchers he was returned to the prison, where he made a confession Saturday to Francis Garity, Jefferson County district attorney.

Last month Sennett had pointed out the spot in the river where he had tossed the trussed and weighted body of Carlson, 23-year-old medical student. Carlson's body was recovered, and Sennett and Robert Winslow, 24, were sentenced to life terms for killing him. Carlson's sister-in-law, a University of Michigan student, was raped several times.

Winslow was cleared of any connection with the Weckler case, Garity said.

Sennett denied assaulting the little girl, and said a friend had accompanied him in kidnapping the Weckler child but he refused to identify him.

Sennett's confession related that his companion had stayed overnight with the child in the woods near his home at Richland Center and the following day he found the little girl had died of an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Looted Ship Sails Again Under Guard

HONGKONG, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Dutch passenger ship Van Heutz—raided by Chinese pirates who kidnapped six voyagers yesterday—sailed out of port again today for Swatow with its full complement of 1600 passengers, but this time with seven well armed guards, too.

The Van Heutz was defenseless yesterday. About 25 pirates leisurely roamed her decks and gathered up loot valued by a ship's officer at a half-million U. S. dollars.

The pirates are reported to be operating a modern intelligence system.

Officials said they travel as well dressed passengers, seizing control of a ship at some predetermined point where confederates lie in wait.

Bias Bay, 930 miles northeast of here, where the Van Heutz was looted, is a notorious hideout for Chinese sea raiders.

From 1922 to 1928, 34 ships ranging from small junks to steamers of more than 2000 tons fell victims to coastal pirates.

One of the boldest buccaners during that raiding rush was an unidentified Chinese woman who took over leadership of a gang after her husband was slain.

British naval units attacked the Bias Bay hideout in March of 1927, but the raid didn't keep the pirates quiet for long.

11 Workers Hurt as Blast Wrecks 3-Story Factory

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, New England Syndicate, Inc.

IT IS OFTEN ASSUMED THAT all subversive movements are alien-inspired and financed. This is not so. Some of the most madcap movements in the United States are the prime activities of scions of the best and oldest families. Some go for blondes; some for horses; some for movements.

Old families have a way of producing about the same kind of crackpots that any other families do. And neither wealth nor poverty makes much difference because the chemistry that makes a brain act in its own peculiar way does not seem to be class conscious.

Aaron Burr certainly came from a good and old family. He was born of Esther Edwards and the Rev. Aaron Burr. His mother was a daughter of the Rev. Jonathan Edwards, the great New England preacher; his father was the second president of Princeton University. Aaron Burr graduated from the College of New Jersey in 1772 when he was 16, and started studying theology. However, he shifted to law, politics, and Tammany Hall.

Actually, few Americans were descended from an older and better family than Aaron Burr. The progenitor of the Edwards line was admitted to the general court at Hartford on May 20, 1658. His son, Richard, married Elizabeth Tuttle, and as Elizur Yale Smith, the historian says, "His life with her must have been a very unhappy one."

AT ANY RATE, she was charged with all sorts of evils and Richard, after living with her 23 years and having, as Smith says, "six known children with her," did the most unusual thing for those days in asking for a divorce "on scriptural grounds." He was accordingly released from bondage.

Yet out of this marriage of Richard Edwards and Elizabeth Tuttle came this amazing family which includes the Rev. Timothy Edwards, the Rev. Jonathan Edwards, and ultimately Aaron Burr. I could, in this connection, list many important other figures such as Timothy Dwight, the great president of Yale whose maternal ancestor was a Jewish merchant, Ralph Isaacs of Norwalk, Ct.

ANYHOW, the point of all this genealogy is to show that the age and the distinction of family is unrelated to what a man thinks and does. It may be true, as some correspondents have written to me, that Aaron Burr was an innocent manipulated by wicked men. If a vice-president can be so manipulated it is very sad, indeed. For we ought to be able to assume that a vice-president knows what he does, particularly one who has studied both theology and law and who could and did discuss every known subject. Those apologists for Burr, or for any similar innocents whom we may have among us today, make out a bad case for their favorites. Lesser men, so manipulated or who do not know what they do; are locked up where their mischief does no harm.

THIS COUNTRY HAS in its history known many subversive movements; some financed from abroad; some gaining their strength from indigenous sources. Aliens have at times attempted to destroy our form of government, but more of the confusions have been native sons, occasionally of very distinguished families. Some of them suffer from a "guilt complex."

They are miserable because their ancestors did so well, particularly financially. They like to spend their ancestors' savings undoing their accomplishments. Others simply go haywire, as men and women do in all stations of life. It is not often that one finds such a family as the Adams with such a consistent record of service to America.

THE AMERICAN Communist party, for instance, contains many of the old American names among its members and they are not by any means masquerades. These young men and women prefer to spend their inherited wealth destroying the land they inherited. It is, of course, a twisted notion, but it is theirs and they act accordingly. I sometimes wonder why the Communists who have so many fronts and organizations do not organize a millionaires' club to compete with the social register—which apparently is no longer what it used to be. They might start a "commie 400" and admit to one to it whose first American ancestor arrived after 1776. It would be quite a showing.

Pilot of the plane will be William P. "Bill" Odom, who has twice broken the record for round-the-world flying.

Washburn said the unmapped

Fashions for Spring

ing considerable support from the shoulder pad, and "the public," Miss Sullivan added.

Fabrics will make fashion news for spring because they are being used in the traditional manner for which they were meant. Sheer fabrics are very sheer and feminine and are used for collections of wonderfully romantic evening clothes.

Sheer dresses will be heard before being seen, whether due to the fabric itself or the petticoat beneath it. Not too much emphasis can be placed on the petticoat.

The big return is in soft fabrics. Chiffons are a major material, also georgettes, batistes, silk failles, organzas, swiss organdie, parweight silk taffeta and voiles.

Spring prints will either be geometric fountains including the small, evenly distributed figures to constitute the big group this year, or dimensional prints. The most interesting are printed woolens; the freshest are the perennial polka dots and checks.

A fabric to watch is a new, lovely thin chin-chilla, in beige or navy blue, for coats. Another newcomer is a taffeta shantung, with a starched finish.

Spring colors will include a fabulous number of variations of mauve, either raised toward pinkness or deepened toward blue; a sun-baked red of the Goya tradition and a pale air-thin green. White is a new white; if there can be such a thing. Miss Sullivan described the new white as parchment paper white. Another new shade to consider is apricot, grand in fleece when it has the delicacy of peach blossoms.

After a winter of the big, peignoir coat, spring's major coat change will be found in the fitted, the full-length coat and the princess coat. That's like a fresh coat of paint laid over the molded silhouette, it is that fresh and fits that well. The other new coat for spring is the short coat that looks more like a part of the costume than like a separate coat, it is waist length and has a small rolled collar and is buttoned once.

In a sort of gentlemen's agreement designers are issuing suits that are both soft and feminine with plenty of dressmaker details.

In the fashion show which followed, Pauline Triguere took top honors and plenty of applause with her redingote ensemble. A completely unadorned, but adroitly detailed, coat of oxford gray jersey was worn over a lighter gray jersey skirt cut to a high empire waist, topped by a finely pleated white chiffon blouse. The use of jersey and chiffon is unusual.

Quick, Sure Way To Facial Glory

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

HALF THE JOY of being a Beauty Editor is in reading (and answering, of course) letters which come to her desk... especially if that B. E. is sociologically-minded, interested in the fables that prompt human beings, particularly women, to do the things they do. And being a woman, I claim the right to say that women are funny. (But I'll countenance no masculine echo.)

I'm led to this conclusion by a letter from H. T. G., a reader from Lynn, who writes:

"Yes, I've neglected my complexion plenty, but between now and Christmas eve it must be beautiful. It simply must be, Miss Mugglebee, for I've met the most wonderful man and he's dated me for Christmas eve. And I want to look, oh, so glamorous. There will be two other couples and I don't want the other girls to outshine me. Right now my skin is tighter than a drum and it doesn't take to makeup the way it should. Please tell me what to do."

See what I mean? A girl will be only passively concerned about her complexion, follow the line of least resistance in skin care. But let a man walk into her life and the good, old boy-meets-girl routine blossoms into a new world of hope and romance. Then it is a "Quick, Watson, the needle" command to a beauty editor to salvage the remains and resurrect a jaded complexion from oblivion into the realm of distinction and loveliness.

BEST BEAUTY INSURANCE

We've sent our Lynn reader a reconditioning complexion routine geared to accomplishment in the shortest possible time... and we hope it helps her snare her man. At the same time... we've cautioned her... as we've warned so many, many times... to be mindful in the future of those few minutes a day which can be the golden coin which may purchase her loveliness in the years to come. We urged her never again to yield to that temptation to neglect her bedtime beauty routine.

Now for the treatment outlined to our starry-eyed reader. Chief item in the reconditioning routine is a unique texturizing and pore-deep cleansing cream to be used nightly... suggested because it contains an added ingredient especially included to lubricate the very dry skin. It is a cream designed to bring relief to taut skin. This is to be followed with a skin lotion special... recommended for the dry skin... used after cleansing to leave a soft, smooth surface and a perfect base for make-up. Actually, it gives a finish to the complexion which adds to the luminous quality of any make-up.

EXERCISING CREAM FOR MORNINGS

To quicken the pace of the reconditioning program... we suggested a stimulating, exercising cream for a morning application. While we outlined that it be left on the skin 15 to 30 minutes... the longer it is on the skin the more beneficial it will be in toning up the facial tissues.

And because no reconditioning routine is complete without an effective night cream... since, as we pointed out above, a night cream works while you sleep... we included one which is a blend of softening, beautifying ingredients to help keep the complexion smooth and supple.

We'd like to see our Lynn reader Christmas Eve in all her new-found facial glory!

For the name of these reconditioning complexion items, phone the Beauty Department, Liberty 2-4000, any day except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

TAKE YOUR TIME! When traveling by plane obey the rules. The experienced air traveler does not rise from his seat as soon as the plane lands. He waits for the signal. The novice air-traveler should not ignore the stewards' "Keep your seats, please!"

YOU CAN'T blame a girl for wanting to look as lush-lovely as Columbia Star Rifa Hayworth... and now that a Lynn reader has met romance she wants to try to meet it face to face with new-found complexion loveliness that will not be smothered by competition. A reconditioning complexion program outlined for her... may be your complexion salvation, too.

This Menu Saves Time, Fuel

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

TIME AND FUEL saving get top billing in today's menu combination featured by the Consumer Service Section, Citizens' Food Committee. The big show is stuffed hamburgers, with Hubbard squash and raisin-rice pudding sharing oven space. To round out the menu, there are buttered onions and crisp mustard pickles.

Stuffed hamburgers are worthy of peace-plate status because they make use of leftover bread. Besides, those crumbs are meat extenders.

STUFFED HAMBURGERS

3 cups, coarse, soft bread crumbs
3 tbsp. minced onion
6 tbsp. melted butter or margarine
1 1/2 tsp. poultry seasoning
2 tsp. salt
3 tbsp. hot water

1 lb. hamburger steak
Dash of pepper 1 egg

1/4 cup canned tomato juice

Combine bread crumbs, onion, butter, poultry seasonings and 1 1/2 teaspoons of the salt. Add the water, and blend. Combine meat, remaining 1/4 tsp. salt, pepper, egg and tomato juice. Press meat mixture to a depth of 1/2 inch into each of 6 greased custard cups. Then put in a layer of the stuffing and cover with remaining meat mixture. Set custard cups in a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED HUBBARD SQUASH

3 lbs. pared, seeded Hubbard squash 1/2 tsp. salt

2 tbsp. butter or margarine

Cut squash into 1 1/2-inch pieces and place in greased baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and dot with butter or margarine. Sprinkle with sugar if sweetness is desired. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 1 1/2 hours. Mash or not as preferred. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED RAISIN-RICE PUDDING

4 cups milk
3 tbsp. raw white rice, washed
1/4 tsp. salt 1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup seedless raisins
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. nutmeg

Combine milk and rice in top of a double boiler, and cook over simmering, not boiling water, for 2 hours, stirring occasionally. Then add remaining ingredients, turn into a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 45 minutes. Insert the spoon near edge of the casserole, and stir rice 2 or 3 times during baking, without disturbing brown skin. Serve warm or cold. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Ground beef or hamburger is a popular American favorite, and there are many other ways of serving it, using bread crumbs and vegetables to extend it.

MEAT CUPS WITH CREAMED POTATOES

1/2 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup milk 1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper

Combine all ingredients. Line ungreased muffin pans with the meat mixture to a thickness of 1/4 inch. Fill with creamed potatoes and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes.

CREAMED POTATOES

4 medium potatoes
1 cup milk
Salt and pepper

Peel and dice potatoes. Place in saucepan with milk. Cover and cook slowly for about 20 minutes. Remove cover and cook until thick. Add seasoning and fill meat cups.

My Wild Irish Rose At Met Christmas

Warners' handsome Technicolor musical biography, "My Wild Irish Rose," and the star-spangled "Road to Rio," are due to gladden the holiday season for Metropolitan Theater entertainment-seekers.

"My Wild Irish Rose," built around the fabulous careers of Chauncey Olcott and Lillian Russell, is to be given its New England premiere on the Met screen on Christmas Day.

Although it has no marquee-names, the word is that the latest Warners' musical puts the brothers out in front again in the musical field. Top role is played by Dennis Morgan. Heading his supporting cast are newcomers Arleen Dahl, Andrea King, Alan Hale, George Tobias, George O'Brien, Ben Blue and William Frawley.

The latest Bing Crosby-Boh Hope-Dorothy Lamour "Road" show, "Road to Rio," is set for a special reserved-seat, New Year's Eve opening at the Met. It is scheduled to begin its regular run the following day.

The Andrews Sisters, of stage, screen and radio, are importantly spotted in the picture which, if it lives up to advance raves, is another feast of gags and wisecracks.

Ross Reviews Past and Names Schmidt Greatest

By AUSTEN LAKE

ART ROSS SAT in his Bruins' office like an old Christmas gnome among his toys, portraits, scrolls, plaques and trophies, and in a voice like an Airdale's growl, made mental audit of his 24 years as hockey's best brain. Uncle Art has just turned 62 and sniffs the glories of the past like an old fire horse savoring the aroma of a burning barn. His features were wreathed in benevolence and he no longer hunches on the end of his spine with a curled expression and a bit of sulphur on his tongue.

So today Uncle arose from his swivel chair, warped his curly features in a golden smile and extended a gracious bunch of bananas paw. Then, suddenly, he withdrew it and looked sour. "O, I forgot," he grunted, "I'm mad at you." Ahhhhhh! That was more like the Ross I knew, the old permissim puss who uster feud with his fellow managers like a Kentucky mountaineer, who never deigned to stoop to diplomatic tricks, hammered hard bargains and fizzed like a soda spigot—a grand and growly old guy who never learned to lose or forgive a slur.

"YEH," RASPED UNCLE, "you wrote a story last spring putting me in the same age class with Eddie Collins and Dick Harlow. Why those are mewling infants, sprigs off the bush, compared to me." He hooked a thumb toward Dit Clapper, his debonaire bench-boss who, for all his 20 years of rawhide rink scuffling, looks and dresses like a church vestryman in an Easter parade. "Dit was born a year after I played my first Stanley Cup game," I observed shyly, "That must have been when Nero played for Rome." Ross humphed. "No," he said, "it was 1906."

Uncle's eyes glowed softly and he breathed as though inhaling rosemary and lavender. There was just a trace in this mellowed gentleman of the blocky belligerent man who had come here in a hard hat, a camel's hair coat and a brittle temper to papa C. F. Adam's National League franchise and sign a flock of amateur curious which looked like something out of Ripley's Odditorium. Still, in the intervening years young Cousin Arthur had become Uncle and lifted hockey from a glorified form of glacial shinny into the most scientific, hell-for-leather entertainment known to this sport proud town.

So I suggested, "If your anger will allow; please pick me an all-time Bruins team from among your souvenirs." Ross wrinkled his nose, as a sign of deep meditation, and moaned, "Mmmmm... well Milt Schmidt at center, greatest in hockey history anywhere," I arched my plebeian eyebrows and said, "Whoa, what about such immortals as Howie Morenz and Aurel Joliet and...?" Uncle snorted twin jets of cigar smoke. "Schmidt on top," he quoth, "all the way... Eddie Shore and Dit Clapper at defense, Frankie Brimsek, goal; Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer, forwards." Could it be that Ross, who never before betrayed the slightest hero worship and never hesitated to trade such presbytery darlings as Tiny Thompson, Eddie Shore and Flash Hollett like hunks of pot roast off a butcher's hook, was sentimental under his pebbly shell? "No, not that," I repeated. "Just evaluation." His second All-Bruins team is, Tiny Thompson, goal, Lionel Hitchman and Johnny Crawford, defense; Bill Cowley, center; Harry Oliver and Dutch Gainer, forwards. "Hated to see them go," he brooded, "But when a manager goes soft-hearted he's ready for the ash can."

NO ASH-CAN YET YAWNS for Ross, whose teams in 24 years have won eight of 10 Prince of Wales and three Stanley Cups, played to his estimated $473,000 and grossed nearly six million dollars. Nowadays Ross has withdrawn from the hurlyburly of the refrigerated madness and limits his action to foaming silently on the slopes, guiding the destinies of the Bruins' farm teams and acting as a combination male chaperone, father confessor and auxiliary brain to Clapper. "We gotta grow 'em up like hot house sprouts," he says. "We take kids of 16 and plant 'em in our hockey nurseries, like Tulsa, Port Arthur, St. Catharines, the Boston Olympics and at Hershey. We have about 150 kids, from seedlings to buds."

"Some amateurs, no doubt?" I suggested, causing Ross to furl up his lip like a window shade. "There's no such thing in hockey outside of high school," he snapped. Zat so? Walter Brown,

Spahn Tops N. L. Hurriers; Had 2.33 ERA, 7 Shutouts

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Most effective pitcher in the National League the past season was Warren Spahn. Official averages, released today, revealed that the Braves' southpaw topped Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell and all the rest in the vital matter of earned runs allowed. Spahn's ERA was a neat 2.33.

That wasn't Spahn's only honor. The 25-year-old stylist had the most shutouts (7), pitched the most innings (290) and faced the most batters (1174).

One of the five 20-game winners (21-10) in the league, Spahn yielded only 245 hits and 87 runs, of which 75 were earned. He also lived up to another measuring mark of an ace when his strikeout total, 123, far surpassed his walks, 84.

Not listed in the official records but one which the Braves' Charlie Sands pointed out proudly was that Spahn picked 16 men off first base last season.

"That must be a record," said the Braves' good-old man. "No body around here can recall any other pitcher picking off more than 10 or 12 in a season."

All this, mind you, in Spahn's first full year in the majors. What with the Braves' Bob Elliott having won the league's most valuable player award, it will be a white Christmas for everyone in the vicinity of Braves Field.

Spahn pitched 22 complete games and was topped in this department only by Blackwell and by only one game. Blackwell also led in strikeouts (193) by a wide margin, was the top winner with 22-8 and pitched the only no-hit game of the season—against the Braves June 18. In addition he compiled a streak of 16 successive victories, starting May 10 against Chicago and ending July 30 against the Giants.

Rookie Larry Jansen of the Giants, once a Red Sox farmhand, boasted the best win and lost percentage (.808) on 21 wins and 5 defeats, but was seventh in the ERA with 3.15. Johnny Sain, whose 21-12 performance gave the Braves two pitchers in the 20-game class, was 11th in ERA.

Spahn is the first Braves' southpaw in 40 years to win 20 games, and he's the first Braves' pitcher in 10 years to lead the league in ERA. Last was Jim Turner (1937) who had a 2.38 mark. In that '37 year the Braves also had two 20-game winners—Turner 20-11 and Lou Fette 20-10. Fette's ERA was 2.88.

WARREN "LEFTY" SPAHN

Spahn became a star overnight. He had a 19-6 record at Evansville in 1941 and finished 17-12 at Hartford in '42. He was a grand prospect but missed the '43-'44-'45 seasons. Like the Red Sox' Earl Johnson he won a commission on the battlefield, was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge.

He was discharged in the spring of '46 and joined the Braves in June.

"I had never been higher than Hartford," he said, "and I figured I'd be sent to Milwaukee when I got in a trim. So when Billy Southworth sent me to the bullpen and used me occasionally in relief, I had no worries on my mind."

After a slow start, Spahn became acclimated in late season, started several games and finished strongly to compile an 8-5 record. In '47 he broke through the barrier like a race-horse. He won his first eight games. He sagged a bit in mid-season but again fired strongly. He won his last four games, three via the shutout route. And look at the clubs he beat: Cubs 1-0, Cardinals 6-2, Brooklyn 4-0 and Giants 2-0. He didn't pick on the set-ups.

His season's record against all the clubs was: Giants 5-1, and recall the Giants set a new major league homerun record; Cincinnati 3-2, Cardinals 5-2, Brooklyn 3-1, Chicago 3-2, Philadelphia 1-1 and Pittsburgh 1-1. Chicago, Cincy, Philly and Pittsburgh finished in the second division. Spahn did better against the first division clubs. That's the test of greatness.

To what did he credit his phenomenal improvement?

"Perfecting my change-up," he explained. "In '46 I used to advertise it. Now I hide it. I pitch well, thanks to Johnny Cooney and Billy Southworth. Then, of course, winning improves your confidence, and confidence and control go hand in hand. A year ago when I got in trouble, I had to be lifted. This year, I've been able to solve my own difficulties before the dugout."

Spahn lost 10 games last season, and in five of those games the Braves were blanked. Two heartbreakers were the 12-inning game he lost 3-2 to Cincy on Aug. 1, and the 1-0 defeat in Brooklyn Aug. 14 when Frolter Fernandez kicked a ground ball which let in the game's only run.

As one of the Red Sox said, watching him perform on a Sox day off: "If we had Spahn this year, we'd have won the pennant again."

The Buffalo boy, wintering with his wife in McAllister, Okla., gives promise of ranking eventually with the Groves, Planks, Pennocks and Waddells. He's arrived for keeps—ahead of schedule.

N.E. Racing Needs A Judge Landis To Get Harmony

By JACK CONWAY

THE DOVE OF PEACE was scratched and sent back to the paddock following a last minute effort by Suffolk Downs, Narragansett Park, Rockingham Park and Lincoln Downs to effect an agreement that would avoid conflicts in 1948.

CHARLEY CONNORS

titled to select dates as any of the three other tracks.

Since the talks between the "Big Four" of New England racing failed, new discussions have been entered into by the "Big Three" (Suffolk Downs, Narragansett Park and Rockingham Park). These tracks will try to reach an agreement that will eliminate conflicts between them such as occurred last summer when Narragansett and Rockingham ran in opposition to each other.

The members of the racing commissions of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire have also held several meetings at which they have discussed possible solutions to end the mixup on dates. The three states are partners with the tracks in the operation of the turf game. The commissioners would like to make a final deal which would assure their respective states as much revenue as possible from racing.

Harmony Needed With Mutuel Handles Slipping

WHAT HAS HAPPENED at Gulfstream Park, where the mutuel handle is off millions of dollars during the present meeting compared with the figures of two years ago when the track had the same dates, could very well happen in New England, if there are too many conflicts of dates.

"Jawn Public" is having his troubles meeting the high cost of living. And, while I do not expect he is going to pass up the tracks, he will not have as much fresh spinach to pour into the mutuel machines as he formerly did. Then, if the owners of the tracks insist upon giving him two or three shows a day, he will be less able to keep the racing wheel spinning.

Other sections of the country have been able to agree on date schedules. The State of Maryland has four tracks, Pimlico, Bowie, Laurel and Havre de Grace, and there is seldom any difficulty in arranging dates. Maryland, rich in racing experience, has limited the length of racing meetings. It has found that this is one of the best ways to insure the future of the sport.

The Maryland commission, of course, has control of the dates. In New England, the four tracks are in three different states with no central authority to decide on dates.

In the New York city area there are four tracks, Belmont, Jamaica, Empire and Aqueduct, but here again one commission has charge of the entire situation. The New York Commission is also able to find sufficient dates for picturesque Saratoga that does not conflict with racing near New York.

The Massachusetts Fair Circuit was organized for the purpose of arranging dates, securing the best possible officials and for regulating purses and other things concerning the operation of half-mile tracks. It has proved very successful. The racing commission has worked close to officers of the circuit with the result that half-mile racing has made big gains in this State.

Tracks Should Name Date Committee

THE NEW ENGLAND tracks were reluctant to name a Judge Landis for racing. A person like Charley Connors, former chairman of the Massachusetts Racing Commission, could have done much to have avoided the present situation, if he had authority to act for the four tracks.

Local situations have prevented the tracks handing their troubles over to a Judge Landis. They could still save the situation by naming a committee, which would have representatives of the various tracks as members and would also include spokesmen for the three commissions.

If given authority to make a final agreement, such a committee could do much to restore harmony in New England racing.

B. A. Dario, general manager of Lincoln Downs, turned down a compromise offer which would have had Rhode Island's new $3,000,000 track opening and closing the New England racing season. Lincoln Downs has already applied for 92 days of racing. Labor Day is among the dates sought.

Narragansett Park has conducted racing on Labor Day for many years, and it feels it has a prior claim to this date.

Dario takes the stand that his track is the most modern in this part of the country, and that he is entitled to select dates as any of the three other tracks.

Medford Declares Half Holiday

By MIKE GILLOOLY

The City of Medford experienced its wildest celebration today as it welcomed back its heroes—the high school football team from its successful seven-days trip to Jacksonville, Fla., where the Mustangs battled the Robert E. Lee School to a scoreless tie last Friday night.

Never in the history of the city has there been a wilder jam session. Thousands of well-wishers, students, the high school band, a police escort, friends and relatives, the fund-raising committee and city officials, were on hand to greet their Eastern State champions with open arms.

The celebration started at 7:30 this morning when the group, headed by Coach Tom O'Connor, detrained from their berths at So. Station after an overnight ride from New York, and the festivities are still going. The celebration will not end until long after tonight with many house parties.

As a reward for their grand job, the school committee made today a half holiday for all students and gave them the day off.

The group of nearly 50 was met at the South Station by the 90-piece Medford High Band that serenaded the boys as they marched through the station to a restaurant for their breakfast.

The band continued playing as the team ate and accompanied them their waiting buses.

The bus lines then proceeded to Medford. At the Somerville line, they were met by Medford police who escorted them to the police station on Main and Forest sts. At this point, they formed behind the band and started their march to the auditorium in the Medford High School.

As they marched along the streets, the entire student body of approximately 2500 joined the procession. Clamoring throngs jammed rooftops all along the way, showering the marchers with confetti and scraps of paper. Traffic was at a standstill as the cavalcade marched merrily through Medford sq. to the school hall.

At the auditorium, principal speakers were Headmaster Edward H. Lenord, who made the trip; Supr. of Schools Kadesch, Coach Tom O'Connor and his co-captains Tom Kelly and Gino Paglucia. After the rally, the students were dismissed from their classes for the rest of the day.

Mauri Rose of Chicago placed third with 1000 points, all scored by winning the 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis Speedway. It was the only AAA contest Rose entered this year.

The first ten, and their totals, follow:

N. E. Basketball Grows in Stature

By EDDIE HOPKINS

Undoubtedly it was unintentional, but Dick Dunkel, "Mr. Basketball Ratings," placed an added burden on the shoulders of Boston University and Harvard, local representatives in tonight's doubleheader at the Garden that offers Syracuse and Bradley as the opposition, when he stated at the Basketball Writers' luncheon yesterday that "New England college basketball strength has been growing by leaps and bounds in recent years."

The proof offered by Dunkel for such an opinion which, incidentally, seems to be widespread these days, is taken from his own ratings since the pre-war year of 1940.

"In that year, New England didn't have one team among the nation's first 10. Indiana was the top team that year with a rating of 68.4 while New England's best was Yale at 57.6."

"During the war, the trend toward increase or decrease in strength was fairly evenly divided, generally speaking, throughout the nation. But in New England, there were a far greater number of increases than decreases, with the majority of others in this area staying at about the same figure." "Ratings of New England teams for selected years between 1940 and 1947 reveal particularly sharp increases for Boston University, Connecticut, Harvard, Holy Cross, Rhode Island State, Trinity and Vermont. There isn't another section of the country that can show such a high percentage of substantial increases."

According to Dunkel, the overall New England increase in rating comes at the direct expense of the rest of the country.

"In intersectional play, New England teams have been taking a greater and greater amount of rating from their opponents from other sections."

"The question arises," continued the figure man, "now that the war is over and the man-power situation is returning to normal, whether or not the New England trend will continue."

"It is our belief that it will. We are of the opinion that the powers, the students and the fans will demand it, because of the revival of basketball interest in New England as a result of the college double-headers at the Boston Garden."

54 Oilman Pauley Admits He'll Take Over Rams

By VINCENT X. FLAHERTY

Special to Boston Evening American

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Unpublished reports that the Los Angeles Rams were to be sold were confirmed today by Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to the Secretary of the Army, California oil man and Beverly Hills resident, who admitted he expects to purchase the local unit of the National Football League.

When communicated with in Washington and asked if he had bought or was going to buy, Pauley said:

"I have a man in Los Angeles who is working on the deal. It can be that he has already bought the Rams in my behalf—but as of this minute I cannot safely say that we have completed the deal."

Pauley also revealed that he will take controlling interest of the Rams when and if the deal is consummated.

The prospective owner of the Rams, who has also been negotiating to buy the St. Louis Browns in hopes of transferring that American League franchise to Los Angeles, has been toying with the idea of buying the Rams the past three weeks. Pauley was approached by a go-between from the Rams, and that is how negotiations were started.

Pauley left Washington and spent last week-end in New York where he made a first-hand study of the profootball situation with friends.

It was there that he decided to buy the Rams—if Daniel F. Reeves, owner of the club, agreed to the price offered. Pauley gave his local representative the green light to close the deal if Reeves agreed to sell at the specified figure.

"You can say," said Pauley from Washington, "that it looks as though I will be the new owner of the Rams."

Pauley is a graduate of the University of California where he now serves on the board of regents. The 6-foot-3-inch Californian was a tackle with the Golden Bears until he suffered a broken neck in an airplane crash and had to give up the game. He was a close friend and adviser of the late President Roosevelt and served as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Recently, he has been strongly considered for a cabinet post as secretary of the Army, succeeding present Secretary of the Army Royall.

Dan Reeves, owner of the Rams, decided to give up professional football and devote his full time to his Beverly Hills stock brokerage.

Reeves has suffered staggering financial losses ever since he brought into the Rams back in 1941. The Rams were then operating in Cleveland where they were a perennial box office due until the 1945 season when they won the League Championship. But even with a winning team, the Rams were money-losers in Cleveland.

In 1946, with Charles "Chile" Walsh, then general manager of the club, pulling the strings, the Rams were transferred to Los Angeles. But the Rams collided with bad luck here when the new All-American Conference planted a rival franchise in the Coliseum.

The Rams lost almost $200,000 here last year. This year, they lost more than $200,000 and Reeves found that he was unable to stand the heavy financial blow. Reeves was able, through taxes, to stand up to $75,000 in losses. But after that, all of the loss became a personal loss that could not be written off.

Suffolk Five Plays 2 Games This Week

Suffolk University's hoop squad will undergo an intensive drill tomorrow afternoon at Charlestown Y for two tilts listed this week. They face Lowell Textile at Lowell Thursday night, and Burdett College at South End Boy's Club on Friday afternoon.

Handicapped by lack of tail players, Coach Charles Law has been emphasizing speed with his squad. However, against Assumption College last week, the lack of height and experience scored heavily against the Suffolk team as it dropped its initial tilt, 24-48, after chalking up two victories.

Lach Breathes On Apps' Neck

MONTREAL, Dec. 16 (AP)—Syl Apps, the veteran playmaker of the Toronto Maple Leafs, continues to lead the National Hockey League's individual scoring parade today, but Elmer Lach of the Montreal Canadiens is in hot pursuit.

Apps picked up only one point during the past week to increase his output to 27, while Lach went on a rampage, gathering four goals and three assists to move from sixth to second, a point back of Apps.

Netminder Bill Durnan of Montreal sports the best goals-against average, 2.27 and also has turned in the most shutouts, four. Rookie defenseman Bill Barilko of Toronto leads the way in serving penalties, 79 minutes.

The leading scorers:

Dartmouth Skiers Entered In Cannon Mountain Meet

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

HANOVER, N. H., Dec. 16.—Open slopes and trails abound in this snowy region, where skiing enthusiasm is at a new high. As a matter of fact, downhill running was first introduced in America, more than two decades ago, on the old Carriage Road of nearby Mt. Moosilauke.

Thanks to early snow, the Dartmouth ski team members have been practicing for weeks, and several of the lads will compete in the giant slalom and cross-country races, which will be held on Cannon Mountain, at Franconia, next Saturday and Sunday. At the end of the month the squad will head for the big intercollegiate meet at Sun Valley, Ida.

While Coach Walter Prager is in Europe acting as mentor for the U. S. Olympic downhill and slalom racers, Jay Densmore will guide the Big Green skiers. The freshman team, a separate unit, will be coached by "Spiff" Little. Among those buckling on the bindings again for Dartmouth this season will be such stars as Malcolm McLane, an excellent four-event man; Bill Bull, a jumper; Lowell Thomas, Jr., downhill and slalom; Bob DeForest, slalom-downhill; Chris Buge, cross country and jumping; Francis "Sonny" Drury, Jr., slalom racer; Fred Springer-Miller, four events; and Edward Nickerson, another all-around skier.

The team's chief competition in collegiate circles will come from the Univ. of New Hampshire athletes, coached by Ed Blood, former Olympic ace.

QUICK CHRISTIES: The Dartmouth Outing Club's Ravine camp is now open on Mt. Moosilauke, at Warren, with everyone welcome. Costs for a week-end here are unbelievably low... A practice slope is at the very door of the log lodge, accommodating 75, while intermediate and expert trails await skiers on the mountain. And bring your climbing skins.

In Hanover, a tow operates on the golf course, and a J-bar lift is rolling on Wide Oak Hill... The 800-foot Fullington tow hauls 'em up at the bowl, which is two miles north of the town... The nearby Ascutney development, at Windsor, Vt., is attracting its share of enthusiasts.

The famous Children's Ski School, under direction of the Hanover Inn, is more popular than ever, and a capacity crowd of 400 juniors will arrive for Christmas week... Marshall Fitzgerald... The town is rooting for its own Colin Stewart, Jr., to win in the Olympics at Switzerland, in addition to Ruth Marie Stewart—no relation—another native.

Sep Palin to Train Stable at Del Mar

DEL MAR, Cal., Dec. 16 (AP)—Veteran sulky driver, Sep Palin, has deserted Aiken, S. C., as a winter training base for his crack string of harness trotters and pacers and will condition the stable here—pointing for the Western Harness Racing Ass'n meet at Santa Anita next spring.

Palin's two stars, Hoot Mon, winner of the 1947 Hambleton, and Victory Song, will be the strongest twosome in the field when the $50,000 Golden West Trot is held next May.

Aiken has been his winter quarters for 15 years. Cold weather hampered training for the spring meet here last year and he decided to transfer operations to Del Mar.

Huskies Open Home Season Against Bates

Northeastern's varsity basketball team tomorrow night at Johnson Memorial Gymnasium, goes after its third win in four times when it plays host to Bates. With the visitors reputed to use a wide-open system, the Huskies hope to rack up a record score.

A lot of the Northeastern scoring will depend upon those players who have consistently hovered near the double figures. Four of five starters in last Saturday night's victory over Massachusetts at Amherst were in this classification. With the addition of Tom Blair of New York to the first string, the Husky attack has gone up an estimated 10 points.

Captain "Inga" Walsh of Milford played his best game at Amherst, one of his shots being on eye-opening hooker under the basket. Guards Tony Magliozzi of Somerville and Al Rodenhizer of Waltham even set up in the enemy court.

Little Charlie Diehl of Somerville was the only Husky starter to score less than 10 points, but this did not dissatisfy Coach Johnny Grinnell. "Diehl has one of the best shots on the team, but I'm perfectly happy as long as he sets up so many points," Grinnell commented.

For the Bates Bobcats, Center Al Simpson, six-foot sophomore from Elmhurst, L. I., will be the man to watch. He has been high scorer for the past two years, and again Saturday night against Colby he led in the box scores.

No Maine residents are among those named on starting spots on the Bates squad. John Jenkins of Fuzards Bay and Larry Bailey of Bristol, Ct., are the forwards and Captain Russ Burns of Lynn and Dick Scott of Rockland are guards.

U. S. Threat to Quit Olympics Tapers Off to a Protest

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—A threat by the U. S. Olympic Committee to withdraw all its teams from the Winter Olympics in Switzerland over the ice hockey issue today appeared to have tapered off to the "protest" stage.

The Swiss organizing committee has voted to accept the entry of the American Hockey Ass'n which is spurned by the U. S. committee because of reported "commercialism" in its ranks. The A. H. A. is a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation and thus acceptable to the Swiss.

The International body took in the A. H. A. and kicked out the A. A. U. and the National Collegiate Athletic Ass'n.

"Olympic procedure requires that each country's entries must be certified by its Olympic committee," declared Avery Brundage, chairman of the American committee. "We have not been formally notified that the A. H. A. team has been accepted in preference to our official entry. If we are notified, we will lodge a very strong protest with the International Olympic Committee and the Swiss organizing committee."

What action, if any, is taken by the U. S. body should such a protest fail remains conjectural.

MANY NEW RECORDS EXPECTED IN EIGHTH N. E. HEARST MARKSMANSHIP TOURNEY

Records may be shattered in the eighth annual William Randolph Hearst marksmanship competition that is already underway as more than 100 rifle associations will shoot for the New England titles held by the Newport Gun Club and the Lincoln County Club of Damariscotta, Maine.

A record number of entrants is expected for this year's postal and shoulder-to-shoulder final competition while earliest reports indicate that several teams have sights leveled to blast the three firing records that were established in 1946.

A turnout of 110 teams from five New England states (Connecticut being included in the New York regional tournament) participated in the highly successful 1946 shoot and indications already point to that mark falling before a larger field of competitors.

The individual shooting highs will also be endangered. The team total high of 734 set by the Newport Gun Club, second oldest rifle organization in the country, the individual high total of 190 established last year by Howard Fish of the Shelburne Falls Rifle and Pistol

Club, and the off hand mark of 91, held jointly by Fish and George Johnson of the Melrose Fish and Game Club also will be the targets for record-minded riflemen.

Entries may be filed with the Record-American, but should be mailed as soon as possible. Should any rule changes be incorporated, notification will be immediate.

Improved Tech Sextet Tangles With Terriers

Coach Al Carvelli's M.I.T. pucksters, winners of two of their four games, return to the Arena tonight for the second time in as many nights in a return match with Boston University in the feature game of another New England Intercollegiate League doubleheader.

The second half of the twin-bill brings together Northeastern and Ivens.

Once again, Tech is underdog against the Terriers to whom they dropped a 10-5 verdict in the season opener. Since that loss, however, Carvelli's charges have come back strong, despite costly injuries, to top Tufts 7-3 and DeWens 4-3 before losing to Northeastern 6 to 4.

Although hit hard by injuries and it won't be until Christmas before they will be back at full strength, the Engineers again seem headed for their second successful year under the tutelage of Carvelli, former BU captain and Boston Olympics' star.

Last year, Tech enjoyed its best season in the N. E. circuit by finishing behind BU and BC. That was the year Al filled in a big gap left by George Owen, former Harvard and Bruin ice great.

With the lack of practicing facilities and the time he has had to spend with his young athletes, Carvelli has done a miraculous job. In view of last year's success, M.I.T. more than doubled its schedule from the nine games of last season to 19 this winter.

Schoolboys on Celtics Card

Schoolboy basketball, on a large scale, moves into the Garden tomorrow night in the supporting half of the pro Celtics-Providencia Steam Rollers basketball Ass'n of America clash.

For the first time this season, Greater Boston teams will appear in the Garden card when Quincy High tests Lynn English in the preliminary game starting 7:45 o'clock.

The lid-lifter for Friday night when the Celts meet the St. Louis Bombers, it will be Mount High and Nashua of New Hampshire.

According to reports emanating at Providence, a number of its players are threatening to quit and a meeting to deny the fate of these men will be held today.

In spite of the Steam Rollers' power record of only one win and 11 losses, they have given the Celts two torrid tests to date with the locals being forced to hang on before winning, 65-63. In Providence and, 73-69, here at the Garden.

Catch Honey Russell, still not satisfied with his club even though it is in second place, right behind the New York Knickerbockers, expects to have a new addition before the week is over. The return of George Munroe is also expected.

The former Dartmouth ace has seen action in three games and showed to good advantage each time. In his last chore against Washington, he scored 15 points and looked good defensively.

Canadian Champ Fails To Impress Local Fans

By JACK CONWAY, JR.

Not even a cap pistol went off following Ralph Zanelli's unprecedented 10-round decision over Johnny Greco at Boston Garden last night. The 7501 voices in the stands welterweight in the world? Heavyweight Dulio Spagnolo, Italy, won his eighth straight when he knocked out Jimmy Lake, New York, in the fifth round. Charlie Smith, 140, Newark, won a first round TKO over Jimmy Sauer, 146, Cambridge. Chester Holmes, 139, Boston, scored a two round TKO over Mike Duffy, 140, Roxbury. Dick Callahan, 143, Boston, hung up a one-round TKO over Johnny Johnston, 157, Boston.

Greco, the 150-pound welterweight champion from Canada, had been expected to produce a better performance. Johnny had never been rated as a titanic puncher but he has always been dangerous. Ask Beau Jack, Tony Janiro or Bobbie Ruffin.

Against Zanelli, Greco was just another fighter. The Boston American score card gave the Montreal favorite (10-7 at ring time) the third, fifth and ninth rounds. That's all. Greco was fine inside, but seemed glued to the floor when Zanelli was pitching.

"The referee (Mal Manning) was on the other side," claimed Greco's trainer, Frankie Doyle, after the fight. "We had a special meeting at the Boxing Commission before the bout to talk about butting and other things. It didn't seem to do much good as my Johnny was not only butted but also thumbed."

Zanelli is a rugged fighter, but we doubt if Doyle's claim were entirely justified.

"I know that I didn't win the fight," said Greco. "My left eye bothered me some in the last few rounds. I couldn't get the range. He's a good fighter."

Sam Flaksman, member of the boxing commission, thought that the fight was fair.

"We know that Greco is a better fighter than he showed," said Flaksman. "Zanelli's style is very difficult to figure out. We think that Greco was engulfed in a peculiar style that knocked him all off from his regular boxing technique."

Zanelli was all smiles. "I feel like a kid again. After this, I think I can beat any of them."

Someone mentioned Janiro, Jack or "Sugar" Ray Robinson as possible opponents for Zanelli.

"Sure, I'll fight them too," said Zanelli.

Zanelli handed Matty Norton a winning cigar and said: "Now you look like a real fight manager." The Providence welterweight left the Garden bursting with smiles.

Why shouldn't he? Isn't Greco supposed to be the sixth ranking welterweight in the world?

BOSTON GARDEN

58 $1000 Cache of Shoplifter Hardens Soft-Hearted Cops

The sense of well-being that sneaks up even on the most flint-hearted gendarme as the Yule season approaches first prompted Cambridge police to reprimand a sweet-looking, gray-haired 71-year-old Somerville woman and let her go.

Sorry they had even scolded her, they went a step further. They decided to escort her home.

Sure, they had caught her red-handed—a pair of dresses tucked into her coat, a slip bunched up in the dress she wore and a few pairs of stockings nestling elsewhere on her person.

A brace of Pinkerton men, prowling the interior of a Central sq. department store, had observed her calmly appropriating the articles without stopping to pay for them. As they trailed her to the exit, she became aware that they were following her and ran out—but into the arms of a patrolman to whom she babbled a tale that she was being mugged.

At the station house, she was caught with the goods. Police knew their duty was clear but at headquarters the air was filled with Christmas cheer.

They bundled her into a cruiser and took her to her Highland ave. home, escorting her right into her apartment.

There, the mood of the police changed. In the apartment, they said, they found $1000 worth of electric irons, perfumes, costume jewelry, clocks and clothing.

Today they sought a complaint against her, charging larceny.

'Body and Soul' Story Revealed

A nationwide survey among radio disc jockeys reveals that the most popular love song heard on the air in recent years has been the 18-year-old tune, "Body and Soul" by Johnny Green.

And yet, Green once gave actress Gertrude Lawrence all rights to the song as security for a loan, and after it became a tremendous hit, she sold it right back to him for a mere $50.

The trust displayed by these two show people, and how Green was to make $30,000 from his composition, will be recounted in "Two Friends and a Song," in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Let's Ask Cousin, Judge Gillen Rules

John Alves, 35, of Bower st., Roxbury, has been a pal of Frank Dias, 36, of Decatur st., South End, for 20 years but he still would like to get back his $50 watch and $39 ring, he testified today in Municipal court.

Alves, who complained that Dias had taken the watch and ring, said the pair were having a few beers last July 12 when he became involved in an argument with a stranger. He said he handed the watch and ring to Dias while he settled the argument.

But he got the worst of the fracas and, after leaving the hospital, asked Dias for his watch and ring only to be informed he had given them to John's cousin, Clarence Alves, of Terrace st., Roxbury.

Judge Daniel J. Gillen decided that Clarence had better be brought in to explain his part of the story and continued the case until tomorrow, instructing Special Officer John J. Sullivan to summons the cousin to court.

One Down

A Communist agitator is downed by police outside the Italian Chamber of Deputies in Rome. Red deputies ran out of the building in a vain attempt to halt police from dispersing the unruly mob which had attempted to riot. The deputies fared no better than their fellow Reds. Police mauled and beat them, too.

Parallel

Mrs. Arthur Beckner (left), 27, and Mrs. Kenneth Beckner, 30, sisters who are married to brothers, are shown in White Hospital, Los Angeles, with their babies, born three hours apart and delivered by the same physician. A girl, Sandra Kay, was born to Mr. Arthur Beckner, and a boy, DeWayne, to her sister.

In Tents and Fear—Residents of the Jaffa-Tel Aviv areas of Palestine wash dishes in a communal watering place in a tent city provided by local council after the group had fled their homes in fear of marauding Arabs. The community, on the outskirts of Tel Aviv, is tenanted by old men, women and children. They face hunger today as warfare ties up foodstuffs.
